Underpass Work Assures Its Opening Next Week

Broadway Blockade Is Due to End at 4:30 P. M. May 29

Work scheduled today on the Broadway underpass project assures its opening on May 29, a spokesman for Lipsett Inc., the contractor, said today.

Pouring of concrete in a 12-foot and a four-foot center strip today began at 7 a. m., and the work was expected to be finished at the end of the working day.

The last 12-foot strip is to be poured Saturday, weather permitting, but whether this lane is finished, it will be possible to open the underpass to traffic on schedule.

Two 13-foot lanes have been completed in the remaining 180 feet of road to be finished and when the two strips are done today enough of the street will be ready for traffic if there is a delay in pouring the final lane.

Will Open 4:30 P. M.

Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk said this morning he had been assured that the underpass will open at 4:30 p. m., May 29, and the first traffic through at that time will mark an important event in the city's history.

Ground was broken for the project in the fall of 1949. Only preliminary work was completed in the balance of that year and the next year the relocation of sewer and water lines along Greenkill avenue, presented problems which caused major delays in the contract schedule.

The opening of the underpass will be celebrated next Wednesday night starting at 7 p. m., when the Central Business Men's Association is staging one of the city's outstanding block parties with gifts and free entertainment.

Opening of the underpass will be in time to prevent traffic congestion in the city due to an expected heavy holiday rush from the metropolitan area to the mountain resorts.

Final Work on Cedar Street

Final work is in progress on Cedar street in conjunction with the underpass, and a next step independent of the underpass will be the building of a macadam road over the bridge connecting Greenkill and Railroad avenue. This will extend as far as the railroad station.

Other details are to be completed on the finishing of Broadway in the underpass area. This will include the grading along the sides and sidewalk work. Grading is to start first on the north side of

Kingston Officer Killed in Crash

FIRST LT. BARBARA J. WHITE

The Associated Press reported today that First Lt. Barbara Jean White, 27-year-old army nurse, was killed Wednesday when her car and a truck collided head-on between Vallejo, Calif., and the nearby air base at Fairfield. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. White of 44 West O'Reilly street.

The family said this morning that a telephone call had been received informing them of Lieutenant White's death.

Trained in Kingston

Boy, 6, Is Killed; Runs Into Truck

Saugerties Child Hits Wheel of Passing Hay Vehicle

Mandeville Diaz, Jr., six, was killed in front of his father's antique shop on Partition street in Saugerties when he ran into a wheel of a passing truck about 8:15 p. m. Wednesday, village police reported.

The youngster, who would have been seven in July, was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mandeville B. Diaz of 174 Partition street.

Police said the boy ran across the street after another boy. When he arrived on the other side, near the Simmons Dairy corner, he apparently suddenly realized he was not permitted to be there, and darted back toward the antique shop, police said.

He ran into the left rear wheel of a truck that was proceeding south on Partition street loaded with hay, according to the police report.

Coroner Gives Verdict

Coroner Michael A. Galietta, who termed the death accidental, said the truck was driven by Henry Feinberg, 37, of Main street, Kerhonkson. Feinberg was not held. Also riding in the truck was Arthur Vandemark of Napanoch.

An ambulance was summoned and Dr. Herman R. Ash of Saugerties attempted emergency treatment at the scene, but death

Specialist Gives Optimistic Picture Of Gains in Drive

Donovan Is Chief Speaker at TB and Health Association's 43rd Annual Session

Dr. Maurice A. Donovan, heart specialist and chairman of the New York Heart Assembly, painted an optimistic picture of progress made in the treatment of heart disease in an address last night at the 43rd annual meeting of the Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health Association at the Governor Cliton Hotel.

He traced briefly the growth of medical knowledge and scientific equipment which have made such progress possible, and said that the contributions of organizations like the Tuberculosis and Health Association had been incalculable.

He pointed out that general knowledge had also increased tremendously through many different media, such as schools, movies, radio, press, seminars, clinics, and the like, an important factor in increasing public support in the fight against heart disease.

Formed in 1924

The American Heart Association was formed in 1924, Donovan said, composed primarily of physicians, loosely organized and meeting infrequently to discuss common problems. In 1946 the Association became concerned over the number of rejectees in the military services due to cardio-vascular disease and began to step up its activities. In 1949 Congress passed legislation which created a National Heart Institute and in 1950 the first health conference in America was held, attended by outstanding leaders in many health fields.

Donovan pointed out the value of the discovery of the X-ray by Roentgen in Germany just before the turn of the century, and the later development of the valuable fluorescent screen which enables a physician to watch the actual movement of the heart as it beats.

Pulse Waves Recorded

In 1902, he said, Sir James MacKenzie invented a device by which pulse waves could be recorded and irregularities in the beat identified and studied. About 1906 the electro-cardiograph was developed, Donovan pointed out, which made it possible to make a "living post-mortem of the heart." In 1914 Dr. Cabot of Massachusetts General Hospital kept careful records of each case of heart disease treated in the hospital and, in case the patient succumbed, he conducted a post-mortem and correlated his findings with the patient's record prior to his death. He studied

Two Men, Woman Are Held For Quonset Point Holdups

Boston, May 22 (AP)—Two West Warwick, R. I., men—former civilian employes of the Quonset Point, R. I., Naval Air Station—were arrested by the FBI last night for a bold $100,000 armed holdup of a credit union there last March 7. A New York night club singer was taken into custody as a material witness.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation reported one of the men was carrying bills identified as part of the loot but declined to say how much of the money was recovered.

The FBI identified the trio as:

Howard Hildebrandt, 25, who worked at Quonset for two months during World War II, and afterward from December, 1946, to May, 1951. Since the latter month he has been employed intermittently as a private detective and a guard for an armored car service in Rhode Island.

Robert Roger La Plante, 27, a helper and airplane mechanic who went to work at Quonset Feb. 10, 1947, and gave up his job only last week. He was on the payroll the day of the robbery but did not work that day nor the preceding day.

Gloria H. Fazzina, 30, Jersey City, N. J., known professionally as Gloria Dale. She was born in New Britain, Conn.

Hildebrandt and Miss Fazzina were arrested in New York city, La Plante at his home in West Warick.

Hildebrandt and La Plante, both World War 2 veterans, are charged with armed robbery on a U. S. government reservation. None of it was government funds.

La Plante will be arraigned before a U. S. commissioner in Providence, R. I., while Hildebrandt will be arraigned before a U. S. commissioner in New York preliminary to his removal to Rhode Island.

The FBI said Miss Dale was held in the Women's House of Detention in New York.

She was described as a divorcee and a singer at Tony Pastor's night club in New York.

William Janava, club manager, said Hildebrandt first visited the club April 16 and thereafter was a frequent visitor, sometimes paying checks as high as $200 for a party of six. He said Hildebrandt's admiration for Miss Dale was well known in the club

General Ridgway Says Red Accusations Are Monumental Warning to United Nations

Says Peoples Friendly to U. S. and Need World Markets

Washington, May 22 (AP)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway told Congress today Communist germ and gas warfare charges against the United Nations in Korea are "a monumental warning . . . as menacing and urgent as a forest fire bearing down on a wooden village."

Ridgway branded the charges "false in their entirety."

The former commander of United Nations Far Eastern forces was not more explicit in his warning. But he appeared to be thinking along the lines of a recent statement by Secretary of Defense Lovett that Communists charge others with crimes they mean to commit.

Ridgway is here en route to take over the allied command in Europe being relinquished by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Gives Dramatic Account

He gave Congress a dramatic account of how the Eighth Army in Korea, only three days under his command, repulsed an attempt by the Chinese and North Koreans to knock it out after a long retreat, and rose again on the offensive in less than a month.

He spoke at length of the armistice negotiations, which he called "no failure" despite the lack of a cease fire, and of relations with Japan.

Ridgway said he approaches his new job in Europe with high confidence.

The sinewy paratrooper followed his predecessor in Tokyo, Gen. Douglas MacArthur, to the House rostrum by 13 months and three days. On April 19, 1951, shortly after being dismissed from command by President Truman, MacArthur told the assembled Congress he had passed the summit of a long military career and was ready to fade away like old soldiers of a barracks ballad.

Ridgway, in contrast, came before the legislators en route from the highest allied command on one side of the world to the highest allied command on the other side.

Unions, Railways Sign Agreement

Memorandum Is Binder Upon All Groups in Dispute

Washington, May 22 (AP)—Union-management peace, the first in more than three years, came to the nation's railroads today and the government was ready to give up its 21-month operation of the roads.

Three rail unions, with a combined membership of 150,000, signed a memorandum of agreement with the carriers late last night in the White House. The agreement is binding on the rank-and-file.

Actual return of the roads to their private owners will come as soon as the unions and the railroads sign a contract based on the terms and conditions of employment agreed to last night. The contract will run for 18 months.

Four Points Covered

The agreement, worked out between the carriers and the engineers, firemen and the conductors after intensive efforts by presidential assistant John R. Steelman, does these things:

1. Raises wages 37 cents an hour for men in the yards and 22½ cents for over-the-road employes.

2. Ties wages to the cost of living. Pay now goes up or down one cent each three months for each one point change in the government's cost-of-living index.

3. Lays the foundation for yardmen to switch from a 48-hour week to a 40-hour week and get a four-cent pay hike when the shorter work week takes effect.

4. Gives the unions the right to reject carrier requests to run the same train crew through a divisional terminal point if the two parties can't negotiate their disagreements over these interdivisional runs.

Dates to 1949

The long dispute dates to March, 1949, when the conductors

UN Officers See Danger of Soviets Entering Into War

Joy Leaves Talk After Statement

Munsan, Korea, May 22 (AP)—Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy in his final statement as chief allied truce delegate today rebuked the Reds for using the Korea armistice talks as a "stall to repair your shattered forces."

"There is nothing left to negotiate—the decision is in your hands," the admiral declared.

Joy, upon completing his prepared statement, strode from the Panmunjom conference tent. His action threw the Communist delegation into a flurry.

Suggests Recess

But Maj. Gen. William K. Harrison, Jr., Joy's relief, moved over into the UN chief delegate's seat and suggested a recess until tomorrow. The Reds demanded an almost unprecedented afternoon session.

It lasted 29 minutes. Harrison said North Korean Gen. Nam Il used it in a feeble attempt to reply to Joy in what Harrison called "plain drivel."

Another session was set for 11 a. m. Friday (9 p. m. E.S.T. Thursday).

Joy said in his stinging farewell the allies have made their last concession on the repatriation of prisoners of war issue—last roadblock to a Korean truce.

Won't Back Down

The allies won't back down, he said, from their refusal to return prisoners of war who do not want to go back to Communist rule. The allies say that of nearly 170,000 Red captives and internees about 100,000 refuse to rejoin the Reds voluntarily. The Communists want all their captured soldiers back—or no truce.

"Your side must completely abandon your absurd proposition to retain our captured personnel," Nam Il said in a 15-minute opening blast at the allies.

He repeated his daily attacks on UN handling of war prisoners.

Joy was the last member of the original five-member allied team that began truce talks July 10. He is leaving to become commandant of the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis.

No Sincerity Shown

"Nowhere in the record," he told the Reds, "is there a single action of your side which indicates a real and sincere desire to attain" a truce.

"Instead," he continued, "you have increasingly presented evidence before the world that you did not enter these negotiations with a sincerity and high purpose, but rather . . . to gain time to repair your shattered forces and to try to accomplish at the conference table what your armies could not accomplish in the field."

Joy ended his farewell with these words:

"After 10 months and 12 days I feel that there is nothing more for me to do. There is nothing left to negotiate. I now turn over the unenviable job of further dealings with you to Maj. Gen. William K. Harrison, who succeeds me as senior delegate of the United Nations command delegation. May God be with him."

Peary's Widow Is 89

Portland, Me., May 22 (AP)—The widow of Admiral Robert E. Peary, discoverer of the North Pole, is 89 today. Mrs. Peary was the first white woman to accompany an Arctic expedition. She was with her husband on several trips north before he discovered the Pole. Their daughter, Mrs. Edward Stafford of Washington, born in the Arctic and known as the "Snow Baby," was with her mother today.

OPS Charges Retailers

New York, May 22 (AP)—The Office of Price Stabilization has charged eight New York city retailers with selling potatoes for as much as two to seven cents a pound over ceiling prices. Sol. A. Liebman, district OPS director, announced the action today. He said it resulted from surprise visits of OPS agents to various retailers' prices as high as 15 cents a pound.

Opinions Are Based on Position of Korea in Far East Pivot

Tokyo, May 22 (AP) — United Nations officers are eyeing suspiciously a buildup of Soviet strength in Asia because of the danger that Russia might leap into the Korea war.

There is nothing to indicate right now that the Soviets are planning any more than to keep Chinese and North Korean soldiers well supplied with arms, ammunition and vehicles.

But the belief here is that if the Russians ever decide to touch off World War 3, Korea is just as likely a spot as Europe.

The power which controls Korea also controls Japan and Japan is a forward frontier of the free world in Asia.

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's remarks in Washington that Russia is carrying on a big and "significant" military buildup put on the record what staff officers at his old headquarters here have been observing for more than a year.

Threat Is Closer

The threat is closer now because Korean roads are just about thawed.

The North Korean Reds, Russian trained and Russian equipped, started the Korean war on June 25, 1950. Summer is the best period for movement of supplies and tanks.

Although the danger period is approaching, the general belief here, however, is that Russia probably is ready to enter the Korean war only in case the Chinese Communists need help.

"Face" is an important thing in Asia. If the United Nations were to launch an all-out attack, threatening the Communists with defeat, Russia might step in to save China's reputation among her neighbors.

Van Fleet Predicts Prisoner Control Soon on Koje Isle

Koje Island, Korea, May 22 (AP)—Gen. James A. Van Fleet said today the 80,000 stubborn Communist captives on riot-torn Koje Island shortly will be "under complete control within their compounds."

The U. S. Eighth Army commander briefly visited this prisoner of war Camp No. 1, where diehard Reds two weeks ago seized and held the camp commander as hostage for 78 hours.

Under its new commander, Brig. Gen. Haydon L. Boatner, the Koje camp is "certainly fast approaching adequate security," Van Fleet said.

"I believe it is just a question of a short time," he said at a news

HST Says Nobody Can Take Powers

Washington, May 22 (AP)—President Truman said today he has the power to seize private industries in an emergency and nobody can take it away from him.

However, Truman added at a news conference that he will abide by the decision of the Supreme Court in the matter of his seizure of the steel industry.

Reporters questioned him at length in an effort to clear up what some of them called the apparent conflict between these two statements.

Sawkill Section Of Thruway Due To Be Completed

State Will Let Contract Late in Summer for Portion to Route 28

Work on the section of the New York State Thruway extending from Saugerties to the Sawkill area will be completed late in the summer after which a second contract will be let for the route from Sawkill to the Onteora Trail (Route 28), A. R. Erskine, State Thruway Authority engineer said today.

Route 28 at the point of interchange will be built over the super highway by a bridge and another span to be built on the north side of Route 28 will be an access structure in the interchange system.

Present plans also call for a toll collection point where the two routes cross, Erskine said.

To Take Farm Land

Considerable acreage of truck garden farm land along the first half mile of Route 28 leading out of the city will be acquired for the building of the interchange, but state officials were unable to say at this time how much land will be involved.

It is expected that a separate contract will be let for the interchange construction and for the section of the super highway leading from Route 28 across the Esopus creek, the Catskill Mountain Branch of the New York Central Railroad, the O. & W. railroad and Route 209 (Hurley avenue).

The contract which will extend the route from Sawkill to Route 28 where it is planned to make a temporary connection with the thruway pending completion of the interchange, is not expected to be let before late summer (probably in September) Erskine said.

No Time Schedule

The state engineers have no definite time schedule to date for the relocation of a section of the Esopus creek, but it is expected that this work will be done when the route is extended from Route 28 toward Route 209.

Erskine also indicated it is possible that the traffic interchange might be built at about the same time a temporary connection is made with Route 28. Grading work on such structures, he said, is often done in advance to allow for settling.

Most of the interchange will be built within an area along the first half mile of Route 28 before the first turn west of the city. It

Company's Petition Is Not Allowed

Would Pay Boost

Residents, He Says, Are Ready to Cooperate in Every Way

Albany, May 22 (Special)—The Public Service Commission has ordered Kingston City Transportation Corporation to resume omnibus service on its Fairview-Lucas and Wilbur avenue routes on June 1, 1952. In taking this action, the Commission denied the company's petition for authority to discontinue permanently operation of the two routes.

Temporary suspension of the routes, beginning December 26, 1951, was authorized by the Commission last November. Since then, the period of temporary suspension was extended through May 31, 1952. The company requested permission, last March 14, to suspend operations completely on the two routes. Original authority for temporary suspension was granted by the commission after it was shown that the company was operating at a very substantial loss, especially on the Fairview-Lucas and Wilbur avenue routes, and that it could not withstand the conditions which were then shown to exist. It was felt then that the existence of the entire transportation system in the city was in jeopardy.

O'Brien Gives Report

In a report to the commission, Hearing Examiner John F. O'Brien states that testimony received at recent public hearings on the company's petition for permission to discontinue operations on the two routes "indicates that there has been some improvement" in the general public transportation situation in Kingston, with the company reporting a net profit of $1,700 for the first three months of 1952.

Among those who testified at the hearing was Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk of Kingston who expressed the opinion that, rather than have the bus service permanently discontinued on the Fairview-Lucas and Wilbur avenue routes, and that in the event such service cannot be operated at a profit, the company be allowed to increase its fares to 12 cents. The present fare is 10 cents.

Eager to Cooperate

O'Brien's report states that "the residents of those sections of the city which are served by the two routes in question are eager to cooperate with the transportation company; they are desirous of giving the company all possible patronage and, if need be, they would be willing to consent to an increase in cash fares. The best interests of the residents of the city, as well as the best interests of the Kingston City Transportation Corporation, will be served by a resumption of omnibus service on the routes in question, at least for a period of time as will indicate, more fully than has been indicated in the past, the extent to which the public will patronize this service. Bus service should be resumed and kept in operation for a period which will be sufficient fairly to test and demonstrate the patronage which will be received during the summer months, the fall months and, at least, the early winter months.

In adopting its order, the commission left the door open for the company to reapply after January 1, 1953 for permission to discontinue the two routes if they continue to present unusual financial problems.

Pathologist Says Student Wound Was Self-Inflicted

Williamstown, Mass., May 22 (AP)—A state pathologist testified yesterday it was his opinion that the gunshot wound that killed Millard Romaine, Jr., 19, of Cincinnati, O., was self-inflicted.

Dr. Edward E. O'Dea was a witness in the reopened inquest into the death of the Williams College student. Dr. O'Dea, who also is in the department of legal medicine at Harvard University, said Romaine died of a "contact wound."

His testimony supported that of Dr. George T. Mullen at the previous inquest which labeled the shooting a suicide.

The inquest ended with Dr. O'Dea's testimony.

A report by Judge Henry W. Kaliss is expected to be filed with Superior Court at Pittsfield in the next few weeks.

Romaine's body was found in a fraternity house room Feb. 18, after a weekend winter carnival.

Son of the vice president of a Cincinnati, O., tool company, Romaine died of a .22-calibre rifle bullet in the temple.

A fraternity brother, Kreag Donovan of Rochester, N. Y., testified he took Romaine's date to a play at the Williams Campus Theatre Saturday night after Romaine became ill.

Donovan said he and Miss Patricia Sweney, a Vassar student, then returned to the fraternity house for the dance.

After several dances, Donovan said she met a boy from Yale who asked her to dance. He did not identify the Yale student.

Donovan said he met Miss Sweney with Romaine the next day in the fraternity house. Romaine seemed "normal—just as he always was," Donovan said.

Miss Sweney testified at the original inquest that Romaine "seemed a little apathetic."

Treasury Receipts

Washington, May 22 (AP)—The position of the Treasury May 20: Net budget receipts $364,342,334.75; budget expenditures $334,452,536.11; cash balance $5,626,945,032.03; customs receipts for month $29,834,552.85; budget receipts fiscal year July 1 $51,027,622,402.49; budget expenditures fiscal year $56,953,869,254.10; budget deficit $5,926,246,851.61; total debt $259,1222,105,042.73; increase over previous day $15,463,166.60; gold assets $23,297,633,468.49.

The North Korean Reds, Russian trained and Russian equipped, started the Korean war on June 25, 1950. Summer is the best period for movement of supplies and tanks.

Although the danger period is approaching, the general belief here, however, is that Russia probably is ready to enter the Korean war only in case the Chinese Communists need help.

"Face" is an important thing in Asia. If the United Nations were to launch an all-out attack, threatening the Communists with defeat, Russia might step in to save China's reputation among her neighbors.

HST Says Nobody Can Take Powers

Washington, May 22 (AP)—President Truman said today he has the power to seize private industries in an emergency and nobody can take it away from him.

However, Truman added at a news conference that he will abide by the decision of the Supreme Court in the matter of his seizure of the steel industry.

Reporters questioned him at length in an effort to clear up what some of them called the apparent conflict between these two statements.

Would Pay Boost

Residents, He Says, Are Ready to Cooperate in Every Way

Albany, May 22 (Special)—The Public Service Commission has ordered Kingston City Transportation Corporation to resume omnibus service on its Fairview-Lucas and Wilbur avenue routes on June 1, 1952. In taking this action, the Commission denied the company's petition for authority to discontinue permanently operation of the two routes.

Temporary suspension of the routes, beginning December 26, 1951, was authorized by the Commission last November. Since then, the period of temporary suspension was extended through May 31, 1952. The company requested permission, last March 14, to suspend operations completely on the two routes. Original authority for temporary suspension was granted by the commission after it was shown that the company was operating at a very substantial loss, especially on the Fairview-Lucas and Wilbur avenue routes, and that it could not withstand the conditions which were then shown to exist. It was felt then that the existence of the entire transportation system in the city was in jeopardy.

O'Brien Gives Report

In a report to the commission, Hearing Examiner John F. O'Brien states that testimony received at recent public hearings on the company's petition for permission to discontinue operations on the two routes "indicates that there has been some improvement" in the general public transportation situation in Kingston, with the company reporting a net profit of $1,700 for the first three months of 1952.

Among those who testified at the hearing was Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk of Kingston who expressed the opinion that, rather than have the bus service permanently discontinued on the Fairview-Lucas and Wilbur avenue routes, and that in the event such service cannot be operated at a profit, the company be allowed to increase its fares to 12 cents. The present fare is 10 cents.

Eager to Cooperate

O'Brien's report states that "the residents of those sections of the city which are served by the two routes in question are eager to cooperate with the transportation company; they are desirous of giving the company all possible patronage and, if need be, they would be willing to consent to an increase in cash fares. The best interests of the residents of the city, as well as the best interests of the Kingston City Transportation Corporation, will be served by a resumption of omnibus service on the routes in question, at least for a period of time as will indicate, more fully than has been indicated in the past, the extent to which the public will patronize this service. Bus service should be resumed and kept in operation for a period which will be sufficient fairly to test and demonstrate the patronage which will be received during the summer months, the fall months and, at least, the early winter months.

In adopting its order, the commission left the door open for the company to reapply after January 1, 1953 for permission to discontinue the two routes if they continue to present unusual financial problems.

Underpass Work Assures Its Opening Next Week

Broadway Blockade Is Due to End at 4:30 P. M. May 29

Work scheduled today on the Broadway underpass project assures its opening on May 29, a spokesman for Lipsett Inc., the contractor, said today.

Pouring of concrete in a 12-foot and a four-foot center strip today began at 7 a. m., and the work was expected to be finished at the end of the working day.

The last 12-foot strip is to be poured Saturday, weather permitting, but whether this lane is finished, it will be possible to open the underpass to traffic on schedule.

Two 13-foot lanes have been completed in the remaining 180 feet of road to be finished and when the two strips are done today enough of the street will be ready for traffic if there is a delay in pouring the final lane.

Will Open 4:30 P. M.

Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk said this morning he had been assured that the underpass will open at 4:30 p. m., May 29, and the first traffic through at that time will mark an important event in the city's history.

Ground was broken for the project in the fall of 1949. Only preliminary work was completed in the balance of that year and the next year the relocation of sewer and water lines along Greenkill avenue, presented problems which caused major delays in the contract schedule.

The opening of the underpass will be celebrated next Wednesday night starting at 7 p. m., when the Central Business Men's Association is staging one of the city's outstanding block parties with gifts and free entertainment.

Opening of the underpass will be in time to prevent traffic congestion in the city due to an expected heavy holiday rush from the metropolitan area to the mountain resorts.

Final Work on Cedar Street

Final work is in progress on Cedar street in conjunction with the underpass, and a next step independent of the underpass will be the building of a macadam road over the bridge connecting Greenkill and Railroad avenue. This will extend as far as the railroad station.

Other details are to be completed on the finishing of Broadway in the underpass area. This will include the grading along the sides and sidewalk work. Grading is to start first on the north side of

Kingston Officer Killed in Crash

FIRST LT. BARBARA J. WHITE

The Associated Press reported today that First Lt. Barbara Jean White, 27-year-old army nurse, was killed Wednesday when her car and a truck collided head-on between Vallejo, Calif., and the nearby air base at Fairfield. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. White of 44 West O'Reilly street.

The family said this morning that a telephone call had been received informing them of Lieutenant White's death.

Trained in Kingston

Specialist Gives Optimistic Picture Of Gains in Drive

Donovan Is Chief Speaker at TB and Health Association's 43rd Annual Session

Dr. Maurice A. Donovan, heart specialist and chairman of the New York Heart Assembly, painted an optimistic picture of progress made in the treatment of heart disease in an address last night at the 43rd annual meeting of the Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health Association at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

He traced briefly the growth of medical knowledge and scientific equipment which have made such progress possible, and said that the contributions of organizations like the Tuberculosis and Health Association had been incalculable.

He pointed out that general knowledge had also increased tremendously through many different media, such as schools, movies, radio, press, seminars, clinics, and the like, an important factor in increasing public support in the fight against heart disease.

Formed in 1924

The American Heart Association was formed in 1924, Donovan said, composed primarily of physicians, loosely organized and meeting infrequently to discuss common problems. In 1946 the Association became concerned over the number of rejectees in the military services due to cardio-vascular disease and began to step up its activities. In 1949 Congress passed legislation which created a National Heart Institute and in 1950 the first health conference in America was held, attended by outstanding leaders in many health fields.

Donovan pointed out the value of the discovery of the X-ray by Roentgen in Germany just before the turn of the century, and the later development of the valuable fluorescent screen which enables a physician to watch the actual movement of the heart as it beats.

Pulse Waves Recorded

In 1902, he said, Sir James MacKenzie invented a device by which pulse waves could be recorded and irregularities in the beat identified and studied. About 1906 the electro-cardiograph was developed, Donovan pointed out, which made it possible to make a "living post-mortem of the heart." In 1914 Dr. Cabot of Massachusetts General Hospital kept careful records of each case of heart disease treated in the hospital and, in case the patient succumbed, he conducted a post-mortem and correlated his findings with the patient's record prior to his death. He studied

Unions, Railways Sign Agreement

Memorandum Is Binder Upon All Groups in Dispute

Washington, May 22 (AP)—Union-management peace, the first in more than three years, came to the nation's railroads today and the government was ready to give up its 21-month operation of the roads.

Three rail unions, with a combined membership of 150,000, signed a memorandum of agreement with the carriers late last night in the White House. The agreement is binding on the rank-and-file.

Actual return of the roads to their private owners will come as soon as the unions and the railroads sign a contract based on the terms and conditions of employment agreed to last night. The contract will run for 18 months.

Four Points Covered

The agreement, worked out between the carriers and the engineers, firemen and the conductors after intensive efforts by presidential assistant John R. Steelman, does these things:

1. Raises wages 37 cents an hour for men in the yards and 22½ cents for over-the-road employes.

2. Ties wages to the cost of living. Pay now goes up or down one cent each three months for each one point change in the government's cost-of-living index.

3. Lays the foundation for yardmen to switch from a 48-hour week to a 40-hour week and get a four-cent pay hike when the shorter work week takes effect.

4. Gives the unions the right to reject carrier requests to run the same train crew through a divisional terminal point if the two parties can't negotiate their disagreements over these interdivisional runs.

Dates to 1949

Sawkill Section Of Thruway Due To Be Completed

State Will Let Contract Late in Summer for Portion to Route 28

Work on the section of the New York State Thruway extending from Saugerties to the Sawkill area will be completed late in the summer after which a second contract will be let for the route from Sawkill to the Onteora Trail (Route 28), A. R. Erskine, State Thruway Authority engineer said today.

Route 28 at the point of interchange will be built over the super highway by a bridge and another span to be built on the north side of Route 28 will be an access structure in the interchange system.

Present plans also call for a toll collection point where the two routes cross, Erskine said.

To Take Farm Land

Considerable acreage of truck garden farm land along the first half mile of Route 28 leading out of the city will be acquired for the building of the interchange, but state officials were unable to say at this time how much land will be involved.

It is expected that a separate contract will be let for the interchange construction and for the section of the super highway leading from Route 28 across the Esopus creek, the Catskill Mountain Branch of the New York Central Railroad, the O. & W. railroad and Route 209 (Hurley avenue).

The contract which will extend the route from Sawkill to Route 28 where it is planned to make a temporary connection with the thruway pending completion of the interchange, is not expected to be let before late summer (probably in September) Erskine said.

No Time Schedule

The state engineers have no definite time schedule to date for the relocation of a section of the Esopus creek, but it is expected that this work will be done when the route is extended from Route 28 toward Route 209.

Erskine also indicated it is possible that the traffic interchange might be built at about the same time a temporary connection is made with Route 28. Grading work on such structures, he said, is often done in advance to allow for settling.

Most of the interchange will be built within an area along the first half mile of Route 28 before the first turn west of the city. It

Saugerties Child Hits Wheel of Passing Hay Vehicle

Mandeville Diaz, Jr., six, was killed in front of his father's antique shop on Partition street in Saugerties when he ran into a wheel of a passing truck about 8:15 p. m. Wednesday, village police reported.

The youngster, who would have been seven in July, was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mandeville B. Diaz of 174 Partition street.

Police said the boy ran across the street after another boy. When he arrived on the other side, near the Simmons Dairy corner, he apparently suddenly realized he was not permitted to be there, and darted back toward the antique shop, police said.

He ran into the left rear wheel of a truck that was proceeding south on Partition street loaded with hay, according to the police report.

Coroner Gives Verdict

Coroner Michael A. Galietta, who termed the death accidental, said the truck was driven by Henry Feinberg, 37, of Main street, Kerhonkson. Feinberg was not held. Also riding in the truck was Arthur Vandemark of Napanoch.

An ambulance was summoned and Dr. Herman R. Ash of Saugerties attempted emergency treatment at the scene, but death

Two Men, Woman Are Held For Quonset Point Holdups

Boston, May 22 (AP)—Two West Warwick, R. I., men—former civilian employes of the Quonset Point, R. I., Naval Air Station—were arrested by the FBI last night for a bold $100,000 armed holdup of a credit union there last March 7. A New York night club singer was taken into custody as a material witness.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation reported one of the men was carrying bills identified as part of the loot but declined to say how much of the money was recovered.

The FBI identified the trio as: Howard Hildebrandt, 25, who worked at Quonset for two months during World War II, and afterward from December, 1946, to May, 1951. Since the latter month he has been employed intermittently as a private detective and a guard for an armored car service in Rhode Island.

Robert Roger La Plante, 27, a helper and airplane mechanic who went to work at Quonset Feb. 10, 1947, and gave up his job only last week. He was on the payroll the day of the robbery but did not work that day nor the preceding day.

Gloria H. Fazzina, 30, Jersey City, N. J., known professionally as Gloria Dale. She was born in New Britain, Conn.

Hildebrandt and Miss Fazzina were arrested in New York city, La Plante at his home in West Warick.

Hildebrandt and La Plante, both World War 2 veterans, are charged with armed robbery on a U. S. government reservation. None of it was government funds.

La Plante will be arraigned before a U. S. commissioner in Providence, R. I., while Hildebrandt will be arraigned before a U. S. commissioner in New York preliminary to his removal to Rhode Island.

The FBI said Miss Dale was held in the Women's House of Detention in New York.

She was described as a divorcee and a singer at Tony Pastor's night club in New York.

William Janava, club manager, said Hildebrandt first visited the club April 16 and thereafter was a frequent visitor, sometimes paying checks as high as $200 for a party of six. He said Hildebrandt's admiration for Miss Dale was well known in the club

Peary's Widow Is 89

Portland, Me., May 22 (AP)—The widow of Admiral Robert E. Peary, discoverer of the North Pole, is 89 today. Mrs. Peary was the first white woman to accompany an Arctic expedition. She was with her husband on several trips north before he discovered the Pole. Their daughter, Mrs. Edward Stafford of Washington, born in the Arctic and known as the "Snow Baby," was with her mother today.

OPS Charges Retailers

New York, May 22 (AP)—The Office of Price Stabilization has charged eight New York city retailers with selling potatoes for as much as two to seven cents a pound over ceiling prices. Sol. A. Liebman, district OPS director, announced the action today. He said it resulted from surprise visits of OPS agents to various retailers' prices as high as 15 cents a pound.

Van Fleet Predicts Prisoner Control Soon on Koje Isle

Koje Island, Korea, May 22 (AP)—Gen. James A. Van Fleet said today the 80,000 stubborn Communist captives on riot-torn Koje Island shortly will be "under complete control within their compounds."

The U. S. Eighth Army commander briefly visited this prisoner of war Camp No. 1, where diehard Reds two weeks ago seized and held the camp commander as hostage for 78 hours.

Under its new commander, Brig. Gen. Haydon L. Boatner, the Koje camp is "certainly fast approaching adequate security," Van Fleet said.

"I believe it is just a question of a short time," he said at a news

Pathologist Says Student Wound Was Self-Inflicted

Williamstown, Mass., May 22 (AP)—A state pathologist testified yesterday it was his opinion that the gunshot wound that killed Millard Romaine, Jr., 19, of Cincinnati, O., was self-inflicted.

Dr. Edward E. O'Dea was a witness in the reopened inquest into the death of the Williams College student. Dr. O'Dea, who also is in the department of legal medicine at Harvard University, said Romaine died of a "contact wound."

His testimony supported that of Dr. George T. Mullen at the previous inquest which labeled the shooting a suicide.

The inquest ended with Dr. O'Dea's testimony.

A report by Judge Henry W. Kaliss is expected to be filed with Superior Court at Pittsfield in the next few weeks.

Romaine's body was found in a fraternity house room Feb. 18, after a weekend winter carnival.

Son of the vice president of a Cincinnati, O., tool company, Romaine died of a .22-calibre rifle bullet in the temple.

A fraternity brother, Kreag Donovan of Rochester, N. Y., testified he took Romaine's date to a play at the Williams Campus Theatre Saturday night after Romaine became ill.

Donovan said he and Miss Patricia Sweney, a Vassar student, then returned to the fraternity house for the dance.

After several dances, Donovan said she met a boy from Yale who asked her to dance. He did not identify the Yale student.

Donovan said he met Miss Sweney with Romaine the next day in the fraternity house. Romaine seemed "normal—just as he always was," Donovan said.

Miss Sweney testified at the original inquest that Romaine "seemed a little apathetic."

Judge Kaliss ordered the reopening "because there are some features on which I wish further testimony."

Soil Conservation, Denmark's Social Service Discussed

Soil conservation and the social services of Denmark were discussed at the Rotary Club meeting Wednesday.

H. E. Bascom, district forester of Middletown, talked on soil conservation and reforesting and advised the planting of abandoned farms. He declared that New York state had more useless land than any other state in the union.

He urged the Rotarians to take a more active interest in reforestation and conservation.

Secretary Harry L. Edson read a communication from the secretary of the Copenhagen, Denmark Rotary Club in which he writes of some facts of Danish life, emphasizing, the social service of that country which benefits Danish people from the cradle to the grave.

In this field, he states that Denmark is one of the world's most progressive nations. Danish social legislation is not new, for certain of the regulations date back to the 17th Century. It was however, he writes that immediately before, during and after World War 1 that most of the far-reaching social reforms took place.

Contents of the letter entitled, "Captain Carlsen's Denmark" include the following:

Through the Mothers' Welfare League special attention is given to expectant mothers and doctors' care provided without charge.

Free milk is given all those whose income entitles them to full benefits from the Health Insurance Companies. The state and local authorities share in the expense of medical services for all children under the age of seven. Nurseries and kindergartens are provided for children of mothers who must work.

There is compulsory schooling for children between seven and 14. Education through high school is free. A wholesome and adequate meal is provided free of charge during the winter months for those whose parents wish it. A free six weeks' summer holiday also is provided.

Under the Danish Vacation Laws, Summer holidays are not confined to the children, all employes including domestic servants get an annual 14-day holiday with pay during the Summer months. Every business concern must pay its employes a holiday allowance of four per cent of wages earned during the previous year.

Any person who has been employed for six months gets full wages during sickness.

Everyone between the age of 21 and 60 must subscribe to a Health Insurance Company, but only those whose income and property do not exceed a certain sum are considered active members. These members receive free medical treatment, free medicines and dental care. The doctors receive a fixed annual fee.

Most hospitals are free and patients with Health Insurance cards receive hospital care and treatment without charge.

Old Age Pensions are given to women over 60 years and men over 65.

Social Security Law Provisions

George J. Johnson, manager of the Kingston Social Security Office, submits the following on the provisions of the Social Security Law:

A little over a year ago several new groups of workers were brought under social security coverage. Household workers and agricultural workers who are regular employes were two large groups covered by social security as of January 1, 1951.

Many of the people in these new coverage groups are now becoming insured under social security by completing their sixth quarter of coverage under the law. Some, however, are losing valuable insurance protection because their earnings are not being properly reported by the employer. This is usually due to misunderstanding rather than wilful violation. Every employer of household or farm help should provide himself with a leaflet from the social security office which will give him the facts on the coverage provisions applying to his particular type of help. Workers, too, should familiarize themselves with the benefit provisions of the law. The social security office has booklets available on this phase of the law also.

By complexing six quarters of coverage during this quarter, the worker is insured until June 30, 1954. For each year of continuous work thereafter he will be insured for another two years. When he has completed ten full years of covered work, he is permanently insured for life. People born before 1906 will need less than ten full years of covered work, depending on their age. A person born before July 1, 1889, will need only the minimum of six quarters of coverage while continuing to work. However, the benefit amount in these cases may vary depending on when the benefit application is filed. Social security field offices will be glad to furnish this information.

THEREFORE, I, Oscar V. Newkirk, Mayor of the City of Kingston, do hereby recognize the patriotic merits of this cause by urging the citizens of this community to contribute generously to its support through the purchase of Buddy Poppies on May 22nd, 23rd and 24th, the days set aside for the distribution of these symbols of loyalty in this city. REPUBLICAN CONTEST FOR SEATS

Three-fourths of the delegates to the July 7 G.O.P. national convention have now been chosen. Though the totals recorded for Senators Taft and General Eisenhower shift almost daily, careful projection of remaining selections indicates both will reach Chicago with blocks of from 425 to 500 Nomination requires 604.

The calculations suggest Taft is likely to have the higher figure of the two candidates, but not a wide margin over Eisenhower. Neither top candidate seems destined to get really close to the magic 604 in advance of the convention assembly. Unforeseen developments could upset this outlook. No one can accurately foresee what the effect on delegates will be when Eisenhower returns from Europe next month. He might vastly boost his stock, or he might hurt himself.

But if nothing does nullify the present figuring, it means that the nomination will actually be determined on the Chicago scene.

Aside from delegates openly committed to the two leaders, there is a present prospect that some 300 will come to Chicago either pledged to other men like Governor Warren and Harold Stassen, or uncommitted to any candidate. This floating group will be the prize in the great tug of war.

Some of the uncommitted already lean pretty strongly one way or the other. Some belong to big delegations like Pennsylvania's, where Governor Fine is trying earnestly to pick the winning horse. A good many in this category could get off the fence in the final days before convention. Delegations often caucus en route to the convention city, or shortly after they arrive.

A marked trend in convention-eve maneuvers of that sort could virtually end it all before the gavel falls. But if these leave the issue still unsettled, then a totally different factor enters the picture.

According to current predictions, some 89 delegates in five southern states will be the uncommitted category. They will be there because there is no other place to put them. Their problem is not uncertainty; it's that there will be too many of them.

It looks as if Texas, Georgia, Louisiana, Alabama and Mississippi will each send two rival delegations to Chicago, one for Taft, the other for Ike. Obviously there are enough delegates in this bundle to tip the scales decisively for either man.

Not since 1912, when 254 seats were contested, has such a large group headed for the convention under a "clouded title."

The burden of deciding which delegations to seat will fall to the Republican National Committee. Appeals may be taken first to the Credentials Committee of the convention, and then to the convention floor, where all the eligible delegates will vote on any unsettled matter.

If the contests are bitter, as may be the case, it will be the convention itself which will cast the critical weight. And for that purpose if will behoove supporters of both Taft and Eisenhower to marshal not only all their pre-Chicago delegates, but all the additional strength they can from either uncommitted ranks or the backers of other candidates.

This dramatic test, should it come off, may well prove the climax of the convention, reducing all succeeding events to mere routine. But there is just a chance that party leaders, in the interest of later harmony, may dodge this fight by offering to divide all contested seats equally between Taft and Eisenhower.

In that event, the strength of both would be evenly augmented, and the real ballot-by-ballot struggle would be on. And then the winner would be the man with the greatest secondary pulling power among delegates not originally favoring him.

A person counting two hundred dollars a minute would need nine thousand years to arrive at a billion. But there is a quicker way. Sit back and relax—it'll be taken out in taxes.

Those who complain about minding so many things should stop for a moment and contemplate the many more they don't mind.

'These Days'

FOREIGN RELATIONS

During most of the history of this country, our foreign relations were of small importance, our armed forces were not extensive or costly, our attitude toward other nations was generally limited to the necessities of trade and the movements of persons. During nearly the whole of this period, certainly from 1815 to 1945, the passport of the United States was generally respected and the government of the United States accepted no backtalk from any country.

Until 1917, Europe was a place from which immigrants came to this country and to which we sent our young men for higher education and our young women to marry a lord. The rich did the "grand tour," which meant going from London to Paris to Rome, looking at ruins and art galleries, with side trips to the Black Forest, Switzerland and Spain. It was all very pleasant and did not cost too much. Few Europeans toured America; Those who came here hoped to stay.

In our generation, however, all sorts of ideas developed concerning our relations with Europe. Although it was this country that aided Europe in two European-produced wars, the whole thing was twisted into their helping us.

The last war cost the United States more than $300,000,000,000.

Out of the concept that World War II was really a preliminary war between the United States and a victorious Hitler, the Europeans have reached the curious conclusion that 154,000,000 Americans are obligated to help support not only the nations of Europe but the nations of Asia and Africa as well.

Lend-Lease, the Marshall Plan, UNRRA, Point Four, European military aid are the public devices of such aid, in addition, we have made special contributions to Greece, Turkey, Yugoslavia, Nationalist China and to many other countries. The full amount will never be known until a committee of Congress is able to investigate every American expenditure from 1938 to 1952.

In addition, we have been asked, through a series of arrangements going by the general name of GATT, to adjust our tariffs to the necessities of Europe without regard to the necessities of our own industries, several of which are already feeling the strain of unfair competition.

Some Americans were sufficiently courageous to believe that there might be a return for all this assistance. They assumed that when NATO was organized, the Europeans, who were able to mobilize ample divisions to meet their needs in two wars against Germany, would provide some similar defenses to guard their countries against the new enemy, Soviet Russia.

That did not happen. First we were told that they would provide some such force by 1952; now we are promised what amounts to a token force by 1954. Meanwhile, the United States is fighting a war against Soviet Russia in Korea and is shipping men and supplies to Europe to serve in NATO.

The French are heavily involved in Indo-China and Morocco; the British are short of manpower and money; the West Germans are not certain whether they want to be in another war; the Italians fear that the Communists might win the next election—and so it goes.

The United States finds itself in the curious situation that every domestic matter is affected by foreign affairs. The Europeans pooh-pooh our fears of Soviet Russia and speak of our hysteria. Yet, we are organizing our cities for civilian defense. As we travel in our cars, we read big signs telling us what is to happen on the roads when the day of doom comes.

Yet, the Europeans are not doing any of these things. They wonder why we do them. True, they realize that the final consequences of World War II have been that the United States found its permanent enemy, Soviet Russia, and that a new aggressor nation has appeared in the world, Soviet China. But in some of the European nations, a large and expressive public opinion seeks a road to neutrality between the United States and Soviet Russia.

This must be the principal issue in the next presidential campaign because it is the realistic factor in our current history. If we fail to determine in this election whether the American people prefer to subordinate their lives to what is called "foreign policy," the opportunity to rectify a mountain of errors that may crush us will go by default. The price of power is often too high.

AFTER A HEART STROKE

There are so many cases of coronary thrombosis — heart stroke — that nearly every family is familiar with the symptoms. Fortunately, physicians today, though not making light of heart strokes, try to advise the patient how to live safely and yet not be afraid of slight effort. A patient afraid of effort may try to live his life without any effort at all, and this may mean constipation, indigestion and rapid frightened breathing.

In describing the response to effort of the patient who has had a heart stroke, Dr. Ernst F. Boas in his book, "The Patient Past Fifty," says, "He is usually fearful, always on the lookout for any heart embarrassment. He walks and handles himself as if he were some fragile object that might break if used too roughly. It is a slow and painstaking task to teach him the balance between sensible caution and irrational timidity."

A little pain in his chest, no matter what the cause (often gas in stomach) will cause him great concern. There is danger that these convalescents from a serious heart attack may become confirmed neurasthenics, so the physician must devote special effort to rid the patient of his fears and to help him learn the amount of physical work or activity he can do safely.

What about patients who have had their first serious heart stroke; what is likely to be the outcome? "Many of these patients, particularly those who have experienced their first attack of coronary thrombosis, recover fully and have no further heart symptoms," Dr. Boas writes. "They should be encouraged to resume their former occupations, unless it calls for hard physical work. Keeping too quiet, living the life of an invalid, does not give any more protection against further heart strokes than living their usual mode of life, avoiding hard work or sudden heavy lifts." A couple of rests during the day are advisable.

"A sudden momentary effort may do more harm than a year's tempered activity and may, in fact, induce a coronary thrombosis in the heart blood vessel. The patient must learn not to push himself, to avoid competition, to escape the drive which many middle-aged men and women indulge in. He must give heed to warnings of fatigue and the chest pain, no matter how slight."

With these simple precautions, heart patients can usually resume their occupations.

Better Hurry, Son, Time's A-Wastin'!

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—The steel cables which once roped off the sidewalk in front of Blair House are now removed; so also the little guardhouses once occupied by the White House police.

They were placed there immediately after two Puerto Rican fanatics ran down Pennsylvania avenue, their guns blazing, mowing down two guards in an insane, abortive attempt on the life of the President.

Today people can walk along the sidewalk of Pennsylvania avenue without going out in the street to avoid the barriers. But the root reason for the attempt on the President's life has not been removed.

In fact, security measures to protect his life and that of the governor of Puerto Rico, Luis Munoz Marin, were tightened last week because the new constitution of Puerto Rico is now up for debate in Congress. Governor Munoz Marin, who was attacked in San Juan simultaneously with the attack on Truman, is now under special guard in Washington, and the name of the hotel where he is stopping is kept a secret.

The attempts on the lives of the governor and the President were made by Puerto Rican fanatics who demanded that Puerto Rico be completely independent of the United States. They bitterly opposed the new constitution which sets up a model, middle-of-the-road partnership with the U.S.A., as merely continuing Yankee rule.

Simultaneously, from another group, the new Puerto Rican constitution has been under fire. This group, not fanatical in the physical sense, but almost fanatical in its desire to preserve the status quo, is in the House of Representatives.

After a bill was passed by both Houses of Congress permitting Puerto Rico to adopt a new constitution, and after the carefully drafted constitution was overwhelmingly adopted by a plebiscite of the Puerto Rican people, it was suddenly blocked in the House last week by GOP Congressman Charley Halleck of Indiana.

Two-Cadillac Charley

Halleck frequently called "Two Cadillac Charley," because he came to Washington a man of modest means and suddenly blossomed out with two Cadillacs, was rather vague about reasons for opposing the Puerto Rican constitution. He didn't like the fact that it prohibited child labor, though the United States does, too; and he also objected to Section 20 which sets forth the Puerto Rican goal of a job for every man.

Other Republicans, equally conservative, disagreed with Halleck. Congressman "Doc" Miller of Nebraska, a strong MacArthur booster and a student of the Puerto Rican Constitution, pointed out that it would not have permitted seizure of the steel mills or taking over newspapers.

"Do you object to the fact that it would prevent the government from seizing the steel mills?" asked Congressman Miller. "Do you object to this ban against wire-tapping?"

Halleck had no convincing answer.

His friend, Congressman Fred Crawford of Michigan, another conservative Republican, also championed the Constitution, but the gentleman from Indiana continued to object, not only to the Constitutttion, but even to permitting a vote on it. Halleck wanted to bottle the bill up in the Rules Committee, thus stifling free discussion. Several Dixiecrats supported him.

Thus, while the extreme radicals of Puerto Rico are ready to assassinate the president and Governor Munoz Marin if the Constitution is adopted, the extreme reactionaries in Congress are ready to assassinate the Constitution.

What the latter don't understand is that the entire Latin-American world is watching Congress to see whether we renege on our pledge to work out a commonwealth partnership with the Puerto Rican people.

Note—Later, several Republicans persuaded Halleck at least to permit a vote on the Constitution, and he receded from his opposition. To a vote. But one GOP colleague remarked: "Herbert Hoover once proposed a chicken in every pot and two cars in every garage. Today Halleck has two Cadillacs in his garage, but is opposed to letting Puerto Rico express its hope of a job for every man."

Statehood and Politics

When the Senate finally voted down the question of statehood for Alaska last winter, Sen. Clinton Andersen of New Mexico walked across the Senate floor to fellow Democrat Bob Kerr of Oklahoma and remarked:

"You're going to regret that some day, Bob. That vote will come back to plague you in your race for the nomination."

Inside fact was that Senator Kerr had made a deal with southern Democratic friends to trade his vote against Alaskan and Hawaiian statehood in return for their support on oil-and-gas legislation. Kerr is a big oil-and-gas man.

But what Senator Anderson knew was that the people of Hawaii, Alaska and Puerto Rico, who can't vote, but can nominate, deeply resent the way they have been kicked around by certain U. S. legislators; so their delegates at both conventions hope to support those who have befriended them.

On the Democratic side, Senator Kefauver is the only leading candidate who has consistenly championed statehood and the rights of island people. He even took a long trip from Iowa to Washington in order to be on hand to vote. On the Republican side, Taft voted to pigeonhole Alaskan statehood. Eisenhower favored it.

Statement on Defense Means U. S. and Allies Outnumber Russian Forces in German Area

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Paris, May 22—Defense against a possible attack by Soviet Russia on western Europe has reached the point where it may be confidently stated that a march of the Communist armies can be halted and delayed, thus giving air power its opportunity to detect and blast the build-up of the reserve Russian armies that would be necessary to follow through the initial advance.

This broad statement, which must come as a reassurance to Americans, is based on the fact that today the United States and the NATO countries have more troops in western Germany and close by than the Communists have in east Germany. It would require quite a build-up for the Soviets to bring their reserves from Russia across Poland, and such a movement would be subjected to atomic as well as conventional bomb attack from the air.

The Western Defense Forces are not yet adequate to do more than hold up a Russian advance for quite a long while, but, if Germany is rearmed, there is hope of stopping a Russian advance near the Elbe and keeping the Communists from capturing west Germany.

This improved position of the western allies has given Europe a feeling of confidence it did not have a year ago. It has, curiously enough, given those who play on a traditional sentiment of antagonism against Germany here a chance to argue that it isn't therefore necessary to rearm Germany. What they overlook, of course, is that the defense of Germany is more important today to France than the defense of Belgium was in 1914, because the presence of a Russian Army at the Rhine would imperil the life of France.

The new setup in Europe has come about gradually, and it has not been accompanied by any blustering statements which in themselves could inflame the Russian people. What the western allies are doing is not sufficient—it is far from complete, for there must now be a build-up of allied reserves. But it is something they didn't do before World War 2, and that's why so many lives were lost in liberating France and conquering Germany.

It has been estimated that Soviet troops in east Germany number about 350,000 and that allied troops in west Germany now exceed 400,000. It is in this atmosphere that the rearmament of Germany presents the delicate and complex problem which is sincerely bothering France but which at the same time is being made more difficult of solution by the mischievous alliance which brings "left wing" elements in Britain and France as well as inside Germany together to frustrate the development of any German military strength beyond a weak police force.

The French, whose land has twice been invaded in the last 40 years are naturally fearful of the Germans, but the question that faces them is not whether Germany shall be rearmed but who shall do the job. Will it be another Hitler, exploiting the nationalism of Germany and playing first with the Communist and then the western side? Or will it be the German Republicans with the full sympathy and support of the allies, whose financial aid and continued intimacy in the councils of Germany will surely furnish the guidance as well as the protection against such a turn of policy as would be really hostile to the interests of France and the western powers?

The key to a real bulwark of strength against the Soviets lies in Germany. The key to the eventual return to the United States of its troops lies in the transfer of the responsibility of defense to the Europeans themselves. But, by the same token, until French confidence in the course of Germany is established, American troops must remain on the ground and hence American authorities are making the pledge to stay, because that's the only way to provide reassurance at the same time that the program of rearming Germany gets under way.

To visit the supreme headquarters of the allied powers in Europe — commonly known as SHAPE—is to witness the effective type of organization of allies which has come to fruition. It is functioning every day with the precision of a national military command. With General Ridgway taking over as General Eisenhower departs, there will be no interruption in leadership, for the real guidance of this huge military command is that of General Gruenther, who remains as chief of staff. He is an alert, efficient, realistic person, capable of administering the whole operation, so as to leave for the top commander — now General Eisenhower and soon General Ridgway — time to deal with the policy questions which must be ironed out in the top-level conferences with other governments.

The picture is one of progress, and General Eisenhower goes back to America now with a feeling of satisfaction that Europe is once more bound together in an alliance such as existed in 1945.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

In the Cosmopolitan Magazine for May, Senator Joe McCarthy answers the whole pack of lies about his anti-Communist crusade that have been circulated by their allies, the anti-anti-Communists. It is worth noting that the English press also has fallen for the same package of propaganda. This means that some of their reporters in this country are infected with the same dishonesty that taints most of the Washington punditi and corrupts most of the commentary on this subject.

In England, as in the United States, this crooked cabal has invested the term "McCarthyism" with a sneering implication that all the individuals whom McCarthy has exposed are persecuted liberals who have suffered much for noble ideals. The fact that McCarthy has made the same use of his congressional immunity that every lying blackguard of the Roosevelt-Truman conspiracy has relied upon in slandering loyal citizens has been construed to prove that his charges are false and would collapse if put to the test of a jury trial. Congressional immunity was written into the constitution for the very purpose of excusing honest men from the expense, vexation and sacrifice of time from their public duties that would be imposed on them by scoundrels abusing the legal process. It costs practically nothing to file a lawsuit.

The same rogue reporters who have emphasized McCarthy's reliance on congressional immunity have ignored the fact that a larger roster of pro-Communists and worse in Senate and House have invoked the same protection to publish false charges against good citizens. Many of these rascals have inserted pro-Communist stuff in the Congressional Record and dumped bundles of franked envelopes in the New York headquarters of evil political societies so that the conspirators could put the burden of their postage on the taxpayers.

McCarthy's piece in Cosmopolitan leads off with the frank proposition that the only way to deal with traitors is to treat them rough. My only criticism of his opening statement is that he concedes that some of the friends of the enemy have been innocent dupes. They are not. If Eleanor Roosevelt is as wise as her infatuated following say she is, she can't plead stupidity as a defense for her declared faith in the most notorious traitor in American history, Alger Hiss. This gabbing old menace must be either a fool or a conscious associate of Reds. She can't be both and her cult seems to be stuck with the proposition that since she is almost omniscient she is therefore culpable.

One standard smear which the anti-antis have used against every conscientious fighter on the American side would have the people believe that precision and emphasis are bad taste. When I set out to prove that the union racket, which now has its filthy fingers on the nation's throat, was infested with Communists and the lowest type of criminals, I spelled out names and specified facts. Immediately a howl went up that the traitors were gallant fighters for the rights of labor (the saintly Phil Murray, recently adopted by a group of Catholic propagandists, was loud in this outcry) and that the underworld criminals were few and relatively impotent. Since then Murray has claimed great credit for kicking out the very rats whom he formerly defended. The A. F of L. has just ignored a roster of a hundred dominant crooks in its fold.

When I write as I do of the Roosevelt woman I base my remarks on proven information. The evidence has been hard to come by, such as the shocking interference in the attempt of Mrs. Earl Miller to sue her husband for a divorce. Miller, a sergeant of the New York state cops, with a limousine chassis, caught the old girl's fancy when he bossed the detail at the governor's man-

REPUBLICAN CONTEST FOR SEATS

Three-fourths of the delegates to the July 7 G.O.P. national convention have now been chosen. Though the totals recorded for Senators Taft and General Eisenhower shift almost daily, careful projection of remaining selections indicates both will reach Chicago with blocks of from 425 to 500 Nomination requires 604.

The calculations suggest Taft is likely to have the higher figure of the two candidates, but not a wide margin over Eisenhower. Neither top candidate seems destined to get really close to the magic 604 in advance of the convention assembly. Unforeseen developments could upset this outlook. No one can accurately foresee what the effect on delegates will be when Eisenhower returns from Europe next month. He might vastly boost his stock, or he might hurt himself.

But if nothing does nullify the present figuring, it means that the nomination will actually be determined on the Chicago scene.

Aside from delegates openly committed to the two leaders, there is a present prospect that some 300 will come to Chicago either pledged to other men like Governor Warren and Harold Stassen, or uncommitted to any candidate. This floating group will be the prize in the great tug of war.

Some of the uncommitted already lean pretty strongly one way or the other. Some belong to big delegations like Pennsylvania's, where Governor Fine is trying earnestly to pick the winning horse. A good many in this category could get off the fence in the final days before convention. Delegations often caucus en route to the convention city, or shortly after they arrive.

A marked trend in convention-eve maneuvers of that sort could virtually end it all before the gavel falls. But if these leave the issue still unsettled, then a totally different factor enters the picture.

According to current predictions, some 89 delegates in five southern states will be the uncommitted category. They will be there because there is no other place to put them. Their problem is not uncertainty; it's that there will be too many of them.

It looks as if Texas, Georgia, Louisiana, Alabama and Mississippi will each send two rival delegations to Chicago, one for Taft, the other for Ike. Obviously there are enough delegates in this bundle to tip the scales decisively for either man.

Not since 1912, when 254 seats were contested, has such a large group headed for the convention under a "clouded title."

The burden of deciding which delegations to seat will fall to the Republican National Committee. Appeals may be taken first to the Credentials Committee of the convention, and then to the convention floor, where all the eligible delegates will vote on any unsettled matter.

If the contests are bitter, as may be the case, it will be the convention itself which will cast the critical weight. And for that purpose if will behoove supporters of both Taft and Eisenhower to marshal not only all their pre-Chicago delegates, but all the additional strength they can from either uncommitted ranks or the backers of other candidates.

This dramatic test, should it come off, may well prove the climax of the convention, reducing all succeeding events to mere routine. But there is just a chance that party leaders, in the interest of later harmony, may dodge this fight by offering to divide all contested seats equally between Taft and Eisenhower.

In that event, the strength of both would be evenly augmented, and the real ballot-by-ballot struggle would be on. And then the winner would be the man with the greatest secondary pulling power among delegates not originally favoring him.

A person counting two hundred dollars a minute would need nine thousand years to arrive at a billion. But there is a quicker way. Sit back and relax—it'll be taken out in taxes.

Those who complain about minding so many things should stop for a moment and contemplate the many more they don't mind.

'These Days'

FOREIGN RELATIONS

During most of the history of this country, our foreign relations were of small importance, our armed forces were not extensive or costly, our attitude toward other nations was generally limited to the necessities of trade and the movements of persons. During nearly the whole of this period, certainly from 1815 to 1945, the passport of the United States was generally respected and the government of the United States accepted no backtalk from any country.

Until 1917, Europe was a place from which immigrants came to this country and to which we sent our young men for higher education and our young women to marry a lord. The rich did the "grand tour," which meant going from London to Paris to Rome, looking at ruins and art galleries, with side trips to the Black Forest, Switzerland and Spain. It was all very pleasant and did not cost too much. Few Europeans toured America; Those who came here hoped to stay.

In our generation, however, all sorts of ideas developed concerning our relations with Europe. Although it was this country that aided Europe in two European-produced wars, the whole thing was twisted into their helping us.

The last war cost the United States more than $300,000,000,000.

Out of the concept that World War II was really a preliminary war between the United States and a victorious Hitler, the Europeans have reached the curious conclusion that 154,000,000 Americans are obligated to help support not only the nations of Europe but the nations of Asia and Africa as well.

Lend-Lease, the Marshall Plan, UNRRA, Point Four, European military aid are the public devices of such aid, in addition, we have made special contributions to Greece, Turkey, Yugoslavia, Nationalist China and to many other countries. The full amount will never be known until a committee of Congress is able to investigate every American expenditure from 1938 to 1952.

In addition, we have been asked, through a series of arrangements going by the general name of GATT, to adjust our tariffs to the necessities of Europe without regard to the necessities of our own industries, several of which are already feeling the strain of unfair competition.

Some Americans were sufficiently courageous to believe that there might be a return for all this assistance. They assumed that when NATO was organized, the Europeans, who were able to mobilize ample divisions to meet their needs in two wars against Germany, would provide some similar defenses to guard their countries against the new enemy, Soviet Russia.

That did not happen. First we were told that they would provide some such force by 1952; now we are promised what amounts to a token force by 1954. Meanwhile, the United States is fighting a war against Soviet Russia in Korea and is shipping men and supplies to Europe to serve in NATO.

The French are heavily involved in Indo-China and Morocco; the British are short of manpower and money; the West Germans are not certain whether they want to be in another war; the Italians fear that the Communists might win the next election—and so it goes.

The United States finds itself in the curious situation that every domestic matter is affected by foreign affairs. The Europeans pooh-pooh our fears of Soviet Russia and speak of our hysteria. Yet, we are organizing our cities for civilian defense. As we travel in our cars, we read big signs telling us what is to happen on the roads when the day of doom comes.

Yet, the Europeans are not doing any of these things. They wonder why we do them. True, they realize that the final consequences of World War II have been that the United States found its permanent enemy, Soviet Russia, and that a new aggressor nation has appeared in the world, Soviet China. But in some of the European nations, a large and expressive public opinion seeks a road to neutrality between the United States and Soviet Russia.

This must be the principal issue in the next presidential campaign because it is the realistic factor in our current history. If we fail to determine in this election whether the American people prefer to subordinate their lives to what is called "foreign policy," the opportunity to rectify a mountain of errors that may crush us will go by default. The price of power is often too high.

What the latter don't understand is that the entire Latin-American world is watching Congress to see whether we renege on our pledge to work out a commonwealth partnership with the Puerto Rican people.

Note—Later, several Republicans persuaded Halleck at least to permit a vote on the Constitution, and he receded from his opposition. To a vote. But one GOP colleague remarked: "Herbert Hoover once proposed a chicken in every pot and two cars in every garage. Today Halleck has two Cadillacs in his garage, but is opposed to letting Puerto Rico express its hope of a job for every man."

Statehood and Politics

When the Senate finally voted down the question of statehood for Alaska last winter, Sen. Clinton Andersen of New Mexico walked across the Senate floor to fellow Democrat Bob Kerr of Oklahoma and remarked:

"You're going to regret that some day, Bob. That vote will come back to plague you in your race for the nomination."

Inside fact was that Senator Kerr had made a deal with southern Democratic friends to trade his vote against Alaskan and Hawaiian statehood in return for their support on oil-and-gas legislation. Kerr is a big oil-and-gas man.

But what Senator Anderson knew was that the people of Hawaii, Alaska and Puerto Rico, who can't vote, but can nominate, deeply resent the way they have been kicked around by certain U. S. legislators; so their delegates at both conventions hope to support those who have befriended them.

On the Democratic side, Senator Kefauver is the only leading candidate who has consistenly championed statehood and the rights of island people. He even took a long trip from Iowa to Washington in order to be on hand to vote. On the Republican side, Taft voted to pigeonhole Alaskan statehood. Eisenhower favored it.

Statement on Defense Means U. S. and Allies Outnumber Russian Forces in German Area

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Paris, May 22—Defense against a possible attack by Soviet Russia on western Europe has reached the point where it may be confidently stated that a march of the Communist armies can be halted and delayed, thus giving air power its opportunity to detect and blast the build-up of the reserve Russian armies that would be necessary to follow through the initial advance.

This broad statement, which must come as a reassurance to Americans, is based on the fact that today the United States and the NATO countries have more troops in western Germany and close by than the Communists have in east Germany. It would require quite a build-up for the Soviets to bring their reserves from Russia across Poland, and such a movement would be subjected to atomic as well as conventional bomb attack from the air.

The Western Defense Forces are not yet adequate to do more than hold up a Russian advance for quite a long while, but, if Germany is rearmed, there is hope of stopping a Russian advance near the Elbe and keeping the Communists from capturing west Germany.

This improved position of the western allies has given Europe a feeling of confidence it did not have a year ago. It has, curiously enough, given those who play on a traditional sentiment of antagonism against Germany here a chance to argue that it isn't therefore, necessary to rearm Germany. What they overlook, of course, is that the defense of Germany is more important today to France than the defense of Belgium was in 1914, because the presence of a Russian Army at the Rhine would imperil the life of France.

The new setup in Europe has come about gradually, and it has not been accompanied by any blustering statements which in themselves could inflame the Russian people. What the western allies are doing is not sufficient—it is far from complete, for there must now be a build-up of allied reserves. But it is something they didn't do before World War 2, and that's why so many lives were lost in liberating France and conquering Germany.

It has been estimated that Soviet troops in east Germany number about 350,000 and that allied troops in west Germany now exceed 400,000. It is in this atmosphere that the rearmament of Germany presents the delicate and complex problem which is sincerely bothering France but which at the same time is being made more difficult of solution by the mischievous alliance which brings "left wing" elements in Britain and France as well as inside Germany together to frustrate the development of any German military strength beyond a weak police force.

The French, whose land has twice been invaded in the last 40 years are naturally fearful of the Germans, but the question that faces them is not whether Germany shall be rearmed but who shall do the job. Will it be another Hitler, exploiting the nationalism of Germany and playing first with the Communist and then the western side? Or will it be the German Republicans with the full sympathy and support of the allies, whose financial aid and continued intimacy in the councils of Germany will surely furnish the guidance as well as the protection against such a turn of policy as would be really hostile to the interests of France and the western powers?

The key to a real bulwark of strength against the Soviets lies in Germany. The key to the eventual return to the United States of its troops lies in the transfer of the responsibility of defense to the Europeans themselves. But, by the same token, until French confidence in the course of Germany is established, American troops must remain on the ground and hence American authorities are making the pledge to stay, because that's the only way to provide reassurance at the same time that the program of rearming Germany gets under way.

To visit the supreme headquarters of the allied powers in Europe — commonly known as SHAPE—is to witness the effective type of organization of allies which has come to fruition. It is functioning every day with the precision of a national military command. With General Ridgway taking over as General Eisenhower departs, there will be no interruption in leadership, for the real guidance of this huge military command is that of General Gruenther, who remains as chief of staff. He is an alert, efficient, realistic person, capable of administering the whole operation, so as to leave for the top commander — now General Eisenhower and soon General Ridgway — time to deal with the policy questions which must be ironed out in the top-level conferences with other governments.

The picture is one of progress, and General Eisenhower goes back to America now with a feeling of satisfaction that Europe is once more bound together in an alliance such as existed in 1945.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

In the Cosmopolitan Magazine for May, Senator Joe McCarthy answers the whole pack of lies about his anti-Communist crusade that have been circulated by their allies, the anti-anti-Communists. It is worth noting that the English press also has fallen for the same package of propaganda. This means that some of their reporters in this country are infected with the same dishonesty that taints most of the Washington punditi and corrupts most of the commentary on this subject.

In England, as in the United States, this crooked cabal has invested the term "McCarthyism" with a sneering implication that all the individuals whom McCarthy has exposed are persecuted liberals who have suffered much for noble ideals. The fact that McCarthy has made the same use of his congressional immunity that every lying blackguard of the Roosevelt-Truman conspiracy has relied upon in slandering loyal citizens has been construed to prove that his charges are false and would collapse if put to the test of a jury trial. Congressional immunity was written into the constitution for the very purpose of excusing honest men from the expense, vexation and sacrifice of time from their public duties that would be imposed on them by scoundrels abusing the legal process. It costs practically nothing to file a lawsuit.

The same rogue reporters who have emphasized McCarthy's reliance on congressional immunity have ignored the fact that a larger roster of pro-Communists and worse in Senate and House have invoked the same protection to publish false charges against good citizens. Many of these rascals have inserted pro-Communist stuff in the Congressional Record and dumped bundles of franked envelopes in the New York headquarters of evil political societies so that the conspirators could put the burden of their postage on the taxpayers.

McCarthy's piece in Cosmopolitan leads off with the frank proposition that the only way to deal with traitors is to treat them rough. My only criticism of his opening statement is that he concedes that some of the friends of the enemy have been innocent dupes. They are not. If Eleanor Roosevelt is as wise as her infatuated following say she is, she can't plead stupidity as a defense for her declared faith in the most notorious traitor in American history, Alger Hiss. This gabbing old menace must be either a fool or a conscious associate of Reds. She can't be both and her cult seems to be stuck with the proposition that since she is almost omniscient she is therefore culpable.

One standard smear which the anti-antis have used against every conscientious fighter on the American side would have the people believe that precision and emphasis are bad taste. When I set out to prove that the union racket, which now has its filthy fingers on the nation's throat, was infested with Communists and the lowest type of criminals, I spelled out names and specified facts. Immediately a howl went up that the traitors were gallant fighters for the rights of labor (the saintly Phil Murray, recently adopted by a group of Catholic propagandists, was loud in this outcry) and that the underworld criminals were few and relatively impotent. Since then Murray has claimed great credit for kicking out the very rats whom he formerly defended. The A. F of L. has just ignored a roster of a hundred dominant crooks in its fold.

When I write as I do of the Roosevelt woman I base my remarks on proven information. The evidence has been hard to come by, such as the shocking interference in the attempt of Mrs. Earl Miller to sue her husband for a divorce. Miller, a sergeant of the New York state cops, with a limousine chassis, caught the old girl's fancy when he bossed the detail at the governor's man-

Dayton, O., May 22 (AP)—When Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. White were wed 25 years ago, they decided to go along with just the bare necessities in life. Both worked. Neither smoked nor drank. They had no car. Movies were a luxury. When they counted up their savings last week end, they had $43,550, which Mrs. White kept pinned to her slip. They intended to bank the money Monday. But Mrs. White worked late and the banking was postponed. Monday night the money was gone. The couple figure their life savings dropped into trash Mrs. White gathered and burned.

Weekly Food Review

(By The Associated Press)

Fresh pork prices rose sharply again this week in most markets. Chicken averaged higher, too. After heavy selling drives last week helped ease the supply surplus somewhat.

Beef roasts, especially chucks, were a trifle lower in many areas, and scattered reductions in heavier lamb cuts were reported. But otherwise lower-priced meats were confined to temporary local specials.

In fresh produce, corn and tomatoes were lower generally as shipments increased, and many storekeepers put them at the top of their weekend shopping ads.

Also down in most sections were carrots, cauliflower, lettuce, onions, radishes, spinach and such seasonally important fruits as strawberries, watermelons, cherries and limes. Grapefruit was a little lower, most oranges a shade higher.

Pork Cuts Advance

Fresh pork cuts advancer as much as 8 or 9 cents a pound in some places, reflecting weeks of higher prices at wholesale and in livestock markets. Smoked hams and bacon have moved upward more slowly and still are rated thrifty buys in many stores.

The poultry buyers of a large store chain said he believed the bottom of the fryer and broiler price decline may have been reached and that last week's retail quotations, below the 1939 average in some cities, won't be seen again this spring. The supply still is heavy, he said, but poultrymen discouraged by high feed costs in relation to chicken and egg prices are sharply curtailing their chick replacement buying and production is dropping.

The big topic of conversation for most food shoppers was still the nationwide potato shortage. Black marketing and tie-in sales (forcing buyers to purchase higher priced vegetables for the privilege of buying potatoes) were reported in almost every section of the country. The government was pressing injunctive suits against alleged potato price violators in several states.

Praises Institute

Price Stablizer Ellis Arnall has urged the public to reject overceiling prices to fight the black market, and praised the super market institute and several other organizations for promoting a nationwide consumers buying strike against potatoes so as to trim production and bring prices back into line. The Ohio State Restauran Association asked its restaurant members to remove potatoes from their menus.

Agriculture Department market reporters said the shortage had so disrupted normal distribution of potatoes that it was difficult to predict when the situation would ease. Most agreed, however, that any notable change was at least three or four weeks away. They were counting heavily on forthcoming crops from California and the Carolinas. Chain stores said sales of potato substitutes like macaroni, spaghetti and rice, were up sharply.

The OPS this week granted food wholesalers higher markups on some canned fruits and vegetables to allow more equitable earnings. Price officials said the new margins will mean increases of 1 or 2 cents a can on such items as canned fruit cocktail, pineapple, peaches and pears, corn, green beans, tomatoes and tomato juice in many stores where competitive conditions won't block price rises. Chain store prices as a rule won't be affected because the chains don't usually buy from wholesalers.

The Agriculture Department listed eggs, asparagus and spinach this week as most plentiful foods for thrifty buying.

Bus Drivers Resign Over Bonus Angle

Albany, May 22 (AP)—Parents sought transportation today for more than 2,000 school children after the mass resignation of 17 bus drivers had cut off service to five suburban schools.

Members of the East Greenbush Central School District Bus Drivers Association (Ind.) resigned in a body last night in a dispute over a cost-of-living bonus.

The drivers, who served the five schools in the district, reported "sick" yesterday, giving the pupils an unexpected holiday.

At the same time, 15 AFL drivers for the United Transportation Co. failed to report for runs between Albany and Valatie.

No Pay Claimed

The UTC drivers contended they were not paid last week and asked for a contract clause providing that only union members be permitted to drive company buses.

There was no connection between the school bus and UTC actions, officials of both unions said.

Also down in most sections were carrots, cauliflower, lettuce, onions, radishes, spinach and such seasonally important fruits as strawberries, watermelons, cherries and limes. Grapefruit was a little lower, most oranges a shade higher.

Pork Cuts Advance

Fresh pork cuts advancer as much as 8 or 9 cents a pound in some places, reflecting weeks of higher prices at wholesale and in livestock markets. Smoked hams and bacon have moved upward more slowly and still are rated thrifty buys in many stores.

The poultry buyers of a large store chain said he believed the bottom of the fryer and broiler price decline may have been reached and that last week's retail quotations, below the 1939 average in some cities, won't be seen again this spring. The supply still is heavy, he said, but poultrymen discouraged by high feed costs in relation to chicken and egg prices are sharply curtailing their chick replacement buying and production is dropping.

The big topic of conversation for most food shoppers was still the nationwide potato shortage. Black marketing and tie-in sales (forcing buyers to purchase higher priced vegetables for the privilege of buying potatoes) were reported in almost every section of the country. The government was pressing injunctive suits against alleged potato price violators in several states.

Praises Institute

Price Stablizer Ellis Arnall has urged the public to reject overceiling prices to fight the black market, and praised the super market institute and several other organizations for promoting a nationwide consumers buying strike against potatoes so as to trim production and bring prices back into line. The Ohio State Restauran Association asked its restaurant members to remove potatoes from their menus.

Agriculture Department market reporters said the shortage had so disrupted normal distribution of potatoes that it was difficult to predict when the situation would ease. Most agreed, however, that any notable change was at least three or four weeks away. They were counting heavily on forthcoming crops from California and the Carolinas. Chain stores said sales of potato substitutes like macaroni, spaghetti and rice, were up sharply.

The OPS this week granted food wholesalers higher markups on some canned fruits and vegetables to allow more equitable earnings. Price officials said the new margins will mean increases of 1 or 2 cents a can on such items as canned fruit cocktail, pineapple, peaches and pears, corn, green beans, tomatoes and tomato juice in many stores where competitive conditions won't block price rises. Chain store prices as a rule won't be affected because the chains don't usually buy from wholesalers.

The Agriculture Department listed eggs, asparagus and spinach this week as most plentiful foods for thrifty buying.

Bus Drivers Resign Over Bonus Angle

Albany, May 22 (AP)—Parents sought transportation today for more than 2,000 school children after the mass resignation of 17 bus drivers had cut off service to five suburban schools.

Members of the East Greenbush Central School District Bus Drivers Association (Ind.) resigned in a body last night in a dispute over a cost-of-living bonus.

The drivers, who served the five schools in the district, reported "sick" yesterday, giving the pupils an unexpected holiday.

At the same time, 15 AFL drivers for the United Transportation Co. failed to report for runs between Albany and Valatie.

No Pay Claimed

The UTC drivers contended they were not paid last week and asked for a contract clause providing that only union members be permitted to drive company buses.

There was no connection between the school bus and UTC actions, officials of both unions said.

Watch Your Use of Psychic Overcall

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Probably every experienced bridge player is familiar with the psychic overcall of one no-trump based on a long "escape" suit. An example is provided in today's hand. South overcalled with one no-trump, expecting to run out to hearts if he got doubled.

This idea, although it cannot be expected to deceive experienced opponents, sometimes produces good results. If your opponents happen to be just out of school, you may talk them out of the hand.

Even against naive opponents, however, this psychic overcall is unsafe if you are vulnerable; and is particularly dangerous if you are vulnerable and the opponents are not. This hocus pocus is most effective when you are non-vulnerable against vulnerable opponents.

When today's hand was actually played, West happened to be a very experienced player. As the bidding indicates, West was not deceived for a moment. In fact, North was the only player at the table who didn't know what was going on.

When North bid three no-trump (a doubtful raise) South had to scramble back to four hearts. This was promptly doubled, and South was severely punished for ignoring the vulnerability.

West opened the ace of spades and continued the suit, ruffing the third spade with one of his low trumps. The defenders then took a diamond and two clubs, setting the contract three tricks.

East and West found it very pleasant to chalk up 800 points as the result of this hand. It was even more pleasant when they realized that if they had been left to their own devices they could not even have made a game.

Police Have Clues; Jewelry Is Sought

New City, May 22 (AP)—Police were reported today to have hit on important clues and a possible motive in the mystery slaying of Sydney Selwyn, Brooklyn interior decorator.

While refusing to confirm or deny the published reports, police last night disclosed a nationwide search for missing jewelry belonging to Selwyn. He disappeared Feb. 27 and his nude body was found Sunday night in a swamp near Stony Point.

An autopsy showed the 47-year-old Selwyn had been dead two to three months and that he had been shot through the head. The dead man's car was found several weeks after his disappearance, parked near the George Washington Bridge in New York.

The jewelry sought includes a pair of gold cuff links, a gold money clip, and a $500 gold key chain.

Selwyn last was seen alive while eating with a business friend in a diner at Carlstadt, N. J.

Police Have Clues; Jewelry Is Sought

New City, May 22 (AP)—Police were reported today to have hit on important clues and a possible motive in the mystery slaying of Sydney Selwyn, Brooklyn interior decorator.

While refusing to confirm or deny the published reports, police last night disclosed a nationwide search for missing jewelry belonging to Selwyn. He disappeared Feb. 27 and his nude body was found Sunday night in a swamp near Stony Point.

An autopsy showed the 47-year-old Selwyn had been dead two to three months and that he had been shot through the head. The dead man's car was found several weeks after his disappearance, parked near the George Washington Bridge in New York.

The jewelry sought includes a pair of gold cuff links, a gold money clip, and a $500 gold key chain.

Selwyn last was seen alive while eating with a business friend in a diner at Carlstadt, N. J.

Truman Says U. S. Cleanup Will Take Care of Itself Soon

Washington, May 22 (AP)—President Truman said today a cleanup of the federal government will take care of itself as soon as James P. McGranery takes office as attorney general.

Truman told a news conference McGranery should have been confirmed by the Senate immediately upon his nomination without what the President termed all the hooey.

The reference obviously was to the delayed hearings held by the Senate Judiciary Committee on the question of McGranery's fitness for office and the fight some Republican senators made against confirmation of him for the cabinet post.

McGranery plans to take the oath of office next Tuesday.

Garfield Funeral Services Scheduled

New York, May 22 (AP)—Actor John Garfield's political background was discussed today while arrangements went forward for his funeral here tomorrow.

Garfield, a product of New York's slums, who rose to stardom in Broadway and Hollywood "tough guy" roles, died of a heart attack yesterday in the apartment of Iris Whitney, 36, a former actress.

The FBI declined comment on reports that Garfield gave its agents recently a re-statement on his political past.

Garfield denied before the House Committee on Un-American Activities last year that he ever had been a Communist although his name had been used frequently by subversive organizations.

A close friend of Garfield said he had been having domestic as well as political difficulties.

He said Garfield left his New York apartment about 10 days ago after a "minor disagreement with his wife" and moved into the Hotel Warwick.

Funeral services will be conducted at the Riverside Memorial Chapel here at 1:15 p. m. (EST) tomorrow by Rabbi Louis I .Newman of Temple Rodeph Sholom.

Congress Is Told

rounding the capture and subsequent release of Gen. Francis T. Dodd by Communist prisoners of war at the camp Dodd commanded. But he gave high praise to Gen. James Van Fleet, commander of the Eighth Army in Korea.

Ridgway reserved the gravest language of his speech for his warning about Communist germ and gas warfare propaganda charges. He said:

"I wish to reiterate what I have repeatedly stated publicly, that these allegations are false in their entirety; that no element of the United Nations command has employed either germ or gas warfare in any form at any time.

"In the whole black record of false propaganda, these charges should stand out as a monumental warning to the American people and the free world—a warning as menacing and as urgent as a forest fire bearing down upon a wooden village.

Says Danger Deadly

"The extent to which Communist leaders have gone in fabricating, disseminating and persistently pursuing these false charges should impress upon the brains of those who yet fail or refuse to see the purpose of communism, the deadly danger with which it confronts us and the free world."

He made these other salient points:

1. The Communists have in their hands a "logical, reasonable and honorable proposal" for ending the fight in Korea. There will be no bargaining on remaining issues: "Acceptance or rejection, cessation or continuance of hostilities in Korea is now the responsibility of the Communists leaders."

2. The United Nations Army in Korea stands "proud, defiant and confident" along the 38th Parallel, with a "record of fidelity, valor and cooperation unsurpassed in all military history."

Japanese Are Friendly

3. The Japanese are friendly to the United States, they want to build a democracy, but need, above all, to be able to buy and sell on the world markets sufficiently to maintain a healthy economy.

4. America must look for strength to faith in principle and trust in God.

The House broke off debate on the $6,899,100,000 foreign aid bill —more than a billion short of administration requests — to hear Ridgway's report, with the Senators present. The address was televised by the National Broadcasting Company.

Administration leaders said Ridgway's appearance before Congress was not intended to influence opinion on the foreign aid program, now under House consideration.

But his statements are expected to help a drive for approval of a $6,889,100,000 program for economic and military assistance for the year starting July 1.

The House concluded six hours' debate on the measure yesterday. It scheduled a session today to begin considering amendments.

Chairman Richards (D-S. C.) of the Foreign Affairs Committee said the bill, one billion dollars less than President Truman asked, was the lowest that could safely be recommended.

Rep. Vorys (R-Ohio), leading a drive for further reductions, contended foreign aid was swollen and should be cut further. Proposed reductions range from half a billion to three billion dollars.

The Senate will consider a $6,900,000,000 foreign aid bill soon, with sentiment strong for further slashes.

Unions, Railways

first made their wage and working rules demands on the roads. Since then one or more of the unions—and a fourth big operating union, the trainmen—have gone on strike at least three times, all for short duration.

The trainmen settled their dispute a year ago. The major difference, and one of the very few, between the trainmen's contract and last night's agreement is the new rule on interdivisional runs.

Same Rule Offered

But the trainmen, who sat in on yesterday's White House conferences, are understood to have been offered the same interdivisional-run rule as a result of the agreement with the three other unions.

The government seized the roads in August, 1950, to avert a nationwide strike. On two occasions the army, technical operator of the roads, obtained no-strike court orders. The three unions are still working under one of them, issued after a strike against the New York Central last March.

The seizure came under a 1916 law applying to transportation systems in time of war. The White House has said the law will expire June 30.

Sawkill Section

will require land south as well as north of Route 28, and because of this it is planned to change the course of the Esopus creek.

It was announced earlier this year that a new channel for the creek would be dug from a point near the railroad bridge, several hundred feet eastward toward Kingston and at a point a few hundred feet south of the present creek bed.

Tough for Mrs. Robbins

Concord, N. H., May 22 (AP)—Mrs. Eldridge Robbins, who recently underwent an operation, hoped that by taking in washings she could earn $75 to pay for a plastic eye for her daughter, Elena, 11. Doctors removed Elena's eye two months ago—after an injury. Yesterday, Mrs. Robbins filled six clothes lines with her first washing. Today, she had no money to show for her work. Instead, she owed $75 to the people who sent her the wash. For a thief stole the washings before Mrs. Robbins could take it from the line to iron it.

Million-Dollar Fire Started by Runaways

Odessa, Tex., May 22 (AP)—Seven runaway gasoline cars crashed at high speed into a standing switch engine last night, starting a million dollar fire.

Destroyed in the blaze were three of the tank cars and their cargoes, two large warehouses, the switch engine, and half the cargo of a fourth tank car. The other three cars were badly damaged.

The Odessa warehouses contained petroleum products, paint and general merchandise.

Firemen still were pouring water on the smoking ruins this morning.

No injuries were reported. The crash took place only a few blocks west of the business section in this west Texas town of 30,000 persons.

The cars apparently began rolling from a siding near a carbon black plant 12 miles west of Odessa.

There was no immediate explanation about how the cars broke loose.

UN Officers See

own forces in the Far East, she is also supplying the Chinese and North Korean Communists with new equipment and supplies.

The Red war potential in Korea is greater than ever, say UN officers.

There has been a marked increase in tanks, artillery pieces, aircraft, and enemy quartermaster supplies, according to field reports.

Rocket launcher units which the Russians had in World War 2 are being used against the allies. So far, their use has been ineffective.

Gen. James A. Van Fleet, U. S. Eighth Army commander, estimates the Communist strength in Korea at 750,000 men with a substantial reserve force in Manchuria.

Red Air strength is about 1,500 planes, with half of them jets, according to Lt. Gen. O. P. Weyland, Far East Air Force commander.

conference, "when the prisoners will conform to all the orders of the camp and will be under complete control within their compounds."

Communist prisoners in Koje's compounds have been in control within their enclosures since Brig. Gen. Francis Dodd's seizure May 7.

No Personnel Enter

No camp personnel have been permitted to enter the prisoner compounds since that date.

Van Fleet who rode through the POW camp in a jeep driven by Boatner, was shown the compound containing 1,600 prisoners brought to Koje in the last two days from Compound 10 in Pusan. These prisoners also had rioted at Pusan, where one POW was killed and 85 were injured.

North Korean and Chinese flags flew from poles in each compound as Van Fleet watched the Red-dominated prisoners marching and drilling within their compounds which frequently looked like army training camps.

He also saw tough American airborne troops and infantrymen of the Second Division drilling with even more precision and determination.

In loving memory of my mother, Mrs. Susie Elliott, who entered into eternity May 22, 1951.

God keep her close beside you
In your tender care,

No eyes can see us weep,
But many silent tears are shed
When others are asleep.

Truman Says U. S. Cleanup Will Take Care of Itself Soon

Washington, May 22 (AP)—President Truman said today a cleanup of the federal government will take care of itself as soon as James P. McGranery takes office as attorney general.

Truman told a news conference McGranery should have been confirmed by the Senate immediately upon his nomination without what the President termed all the hooey.

The reference obviously was to the delayed hearings held by the Senate Judiciary Committee on the question of McGranery's fitness for office and the fight some Republican senators made against confirmation of him for the cabinet post.

McGranery plans to take the oath of office next Tuesday.

Garfield Funeral Services Scheduled

New York, May 22 (AP)—Actor John Garfield's political background was discussed today while arrangements went forward for his funeral here tomorrow.

Garfield, a product of New York's slums, who rose to stardom in Broadway and Hollywood "tough guy" roles, died of a heart attack yesterday in the apartment of Iris Whitney, 36, a former actress.

The FBI declined comment on reports that Garfield gave its agents recently a re-statement on his political past.

Garfield denied before the House Committee on Un-American Activities last year that he ever had been a Communist although his name had been used frequently by subversive organizations.

A close friend of Garfield said he had been having domestic as well as political difficulties.

He said Garfield left his New York apartment about 10 days ago after a "minor disagreement with his wife" and moved into the Hotel Warwick.

Funeral services will be conducted at the Riverside Memorial Chapel here at 1:15 p. m. (EST) tomorrow by Rabbi Louis I. Newman of Temple Rodeph Sholom.

Congress Is Told

rounding the capture and subsequent release of Gen. Francis T. Dodd by Communist prisoners of war at the camp Dodd commanded. But he gave high praise to Gen. James Van Fleet, commander of the Eighth Army in Korea.

Ridgway reserved the gravest language of his speech for his warning about Communist germ and gas warfare propaganda charges. He said:

"I wish to reiterate what I have repeatedly stated publicly, that these allegations are false in their entirety; that no element of the United Nations command has employed either germ or gas warfare in any form at any time.

"In the whole black record of false propaganda, these charges should stand out as a monumental warning to the American people and the free world—a warning as menacing and as urgent as a forest fire bearing down upon a wooden village.

Says Danger Deadly

"The extent to which Communist leaders have gone in fabricating, disseminating and persistently pursuing these false charges should impress upon the brains of those who yet fail or refuse to see the purpose of communism, the deadly danger with which it confronts us and the free world."

He made these other salient points:

1. The Communists have in their hands a "logical, reasonable and honorable proposal" for ending the fight in Korea. There will be no bargaining on remaining issues: "Acceptance or rejection, cessation or continuance of hostilities in Korea is now the responsibility of the Communists leaders."

2. The United Nations Army in Korea stands "proud, defiant and confident" along the 38th Parallel, with a "record of fidelity, valor and cooperation unsurpassed in all military history."

Japanese Are Friendly

3. The Japanese are friendly to the United States, they want to build a democracy, but need, above all, to be able to buy and sell on the world markets sufficiently to maintain a healthy economy.

4. America must look for strength to faith in principle and trust in God.

The House broke off debate on the $6,899,100,000 foreign aid bill—more than a billion short of administration requests — to hear Ridgway's report, with the Senators present. The address was televised by the National Broadcasting Company.

Administration leaders said Ridgway's appearance before Congress was not intended to influence opinion on the foreign aid program, now under House consideration.

But his statements are expected to help a drive for approval of a $6,889,100,000 program for economic and military assistance for the year starting July 1.

The House concluded six hours' debate on the measure yesterday. It scheduled a session today to begin considering amendments.

Chairman Richards (D-S. C.) of the Foreign Affairs Committee said the bill, one billion dollars less than President Truman asked, was the lowest that could safely be recommended.

Rep. Vorys (R-Ohio), leading a drive for further reductions, contended foreign aid was swollen and should be cut further. Proposed reductions range from half a billion to three billion dollars.

The Senate will consider a $6,900,000,000 foreign aid bill soon, with sentiment strong for further slashes.

Unions, Railways

first made their wage and working rules demands on the roads. Since then one or more of the unions—and a fourth big operating union, the trainmen—have gone on strike at least three times, all for short duration.

The trainmen settled their dispute a year ago. The major difference, and one of the very few, between the trainmen's contract and last night's agreement is the new rule on interdivisional runs.

Same Rule Offered

But the trainmen, who sat in on yesterday's White House conferences, are understood to have been offered the same interdivisional-run rule as a result of the agreement with the three other unions.

The government seized the roads in August, 1950, to avert a nationwide strike. On two occasions the army, technical operator of the roads, obtained no-strike court orders. The three unions are still working under one of them, issued after a strike against the New York Central last March.

The seizure came under a 1916 law applying to transportation systems in time of war. The White House has said the law will expire June 30.

Sawkill Section

will require land south as well as north of Route 28, and because of this it is planned to change the course of the Esopus creek.

It was announced earlier this year that a new channel for the creek would be dug from a point near the railroad bridge, several hundred feet eastward toward Kingston and at a point a few hundred feet south of the present creek bed.

Tough for Mrs. Robbins

Concord, N. H., May 22 (AP)—Mrs. Eldridge Robbins, who recently underwent an operation, hoped that by taking in washings she could earn $75 to pay for a plastic eye for her daughter, Elena, 11. Doctors removed Elena's eye two months ago—after an injury. Yesterday, Mrs. Robbins filled six clothes lines with her first washing. Today, she had no money to show for her work. Instead, she owed $75 to the people who sent her the wash. For a thief stole the washings before Mrs. Robbins could take it from the line to iron it.

Million-Dollar Fire Started by Runaways

Odessa, Tex., May 22 (AP)—Seven runaway gasoline cars crashed at high speed into a standing switch engine last night, starting a million dollar fire.

Destroyed in the blaze were three of the tank cars and their cargoes, two large warehouses, the switch engine, and half the cargo of a fourth tank car. The other three cars were badly damaged.

The Odessa warehouses contained petroleum products, paint and general merchandise.

Firemen still were pouring water on the smoking ruins this morning.

No injuries were reported. The crash took place only a few blocks west of the business section in this west Texas town of 30,000 persons.

The cars apparently began rolling from a siding near a carbon black plant 12 miles west of Odessa.

There was no immediate explanation about how the cars broke loose.

GOV. THOMAS E. DEWEY

DR. WM. S. CARLSON

Governor Thomas E. Dewey will dedicate six new residence houses and a College Union building in ceremonies at the State University Teachers College at New Paltz, Saturday, May 24. Formal ceremonies, at which Governor Dewey will speak, are scheduled to begin at 1:30 p. m. in front of the College Union. Dr. William S. Carlson, new president of the State University of New York, will also deliver a major address. Jay LeFevre, secretary of the College's Board of Visitors, will officially name the six residence houses which provide accommodations for 254 students.

With the public invited, hundreds of residents of the surrounding area are expected to join students, faculty, and alumni to witness the proceedings.

In addition to Governor Dewey, President Carlson, and Mr. LeFevre, the following will participate in the program: Dr. Hermann Cooper, executive dean for teacher education of the State University of New York; Robert McCarthy, chairman of the New York State Dormitory Authority; Senator Arthur H. Wicks, majority leader of the New York State Senate; Robert Molloy, president of the New Paltz Alumni Association; Albert K. Smiley, chairman of the College Board of Visitors; and Miss Jacquelyn Gannon, secretary of the College Union Board. Dr. William J. Haggerty, president of the College, will preside. The Rev. John H. Mahoney of New Paltz will pronounce the invocation and the Rev. Gerret Wullschleger of New Paltz will give the benediction.

Ground-breaking for a $784,000 library building on the New Paltz campus will mark a significant development in the plans of the College. Governor Dewey, President Carlson and other prominent guests will lift the first shovelfuls of dirt at the site of the projected building.

The celebration on May 24 will take place in conjunction with the annual reunion of New Paltz alumni. Many alumni are expected to arrive on campus Friday evening to participate in traditional Lantern Night ceremonies. Over 350 alumni and guests will attend the annual reunion luncheon at 12:30 p. m. in the College Union Building. Mrs. Edythe Abrams and Mrs. David Corwin are in charge of luncheon arrangements.

Following dedication and ground-breaking ceremonies at 3:30, the College varsity baseball team will meet an alumni nine in a traditional diamond contest in front of the Campus Elementary School. Tea for all alumni, faculty, and guests, sponsored by the College inter-fraternity and inter-sorority councils, will be held in the main lounge of the College Union beginning at 4:30.

On display for the first time at the ceremonies Saturday will be a scale model of the New Paltz campus constructed by Larry Argiro, a member of the College art staff. This model shows all the present structure on the campus including the Main Building, the Campus School buildings, the temporary dormitories and class room building, and the new dormitory and College Union being dedicated. It also contains models of future units of College's building program including the new Library for which ground is to be broken, the new Gymnasium, and a planned classroom, laboratory and administration building. A series of tennis courts and a large playing field now under construction as well as the future layout for a baseball field and other recreational areas are also shown on the scale model.

sion in Albany. When the war came he got a commission as a lieutenant-commander and Eleanor Roosevelt got George bye, her "literary" agent, to put the heat on Gene Tunney to give Miller a soft job in the navy's physical training program. Tunney didn't want Miller but he explained that no naval officer in his right mind could ignore La Boca's whim. Robert Stripling, of the Committee on Un-American Activities, who finally nailed her friend, Hiss, refused a command invitation to lunch at the White House when she wanted a naval commission for her protege, Joe Lash. Stripling soon found himself picking up butts as a yardbird in the army. When the war ended, his enemies tried to ship him to Japan to keep him off the Communists. They said he would be invaluable there. Stripling said it was strange that a man that valuable hadn't been able to make Pfc in a year notwithstanding three years of ROTC at school. The plain fact is that he had been shanghaied to keep him from turning up Hiss and a whole litter of Felix Frankfurter's Harvard Red hots planted all over the government.

Three New York lawyers tried to intimidate John Glavin, the lawyer for Mrs. Miller. Two were law partners of Franklin Roosevelt, Jr. The third was an old family friend of the Roosevelts. Not one of them represented any client who was a party in the case. Then why did they butt in? Why did the old woman's secretary summon Glavin from Albany down to her apartment in Greenwich village and threaten him with disbarment proceedings?

Oh, but this is no way to speak of a great and gracious lady. No? The hell it isn't. These are facts, not unsubstantiated generalities. I didn't make the facts. She did. She made these and hundreds of other facts which completely refute her clap-trap nobility.

Joe McCarthy is so right he hurts. But he doesn't hurt loyal Americans. High-school and college students, especially, who are getting poisonous doses of lies from bitter mediocrities in the classroom, ought to get copies of Cosmopolitan or find them in the libraries and read the real record. Then they can call the turn on the poor, paltry time-serving slobs who have been doping their minds with sneers about "McCarthyism."

Vassar to Provide 20 Rooms for Use Of Polio Patients

Adequate hospital facilities to care for infantile paralysis patients from a four-county area were promised today by Ellison Capers, administrator of the Vassar Brothers Hospital, Poughkeepsie. The area includes Dutchess, Orange, Sullivan and Ulster counties.

The decision to set aside a 20-room ward from June 15 on for exclusive use of polio patients followed a meeting at the hospital called by John Foerst, Albany State Representative of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. Present were volunteer Chapter Chairmen of the National Foundation from the four counties, representatives of other hospitals in the area, doctors and representatives of the State Board of Health.

In his opening remarks Mr. Foerst pointed out that the polio season is again at hand.

"It is necessary at this early date to make all preparations against any possible epidemic in this area," he said. "Vassar Brothers Hospital, through March of Dimes funds, is exceptionally well equipped to handle polio patients as it has in the past two years."

Chief obstacle in the way of the Polio Center it was explained by Mr. Capers and his assistant, Louis Breglie, is an acute shortage of nurses. They asked representatives of other hospitals in the area for assurance that they would furnish emergency nursing aid for periods ranging up to five days.

"Polio nurses are recruited by the National Foundation through the American Red Cross," Mr. Capers said. "This requires a little time since nurses often have to be brought in from other states."

Thomas Mylod, Dutchess county chapter chairman of the National Foundation, told the meeting that his chapter will finance a study course in the care and treatment of polio patients for two nurses from Vassar Brothers. They will attend the Nursing Institute conducted by the New York State Department of Health at Syracuse University from June 16-27. In addition, the chapter plans to send a physician to Children's Hospital, Boston, for a ten-day refresher course in the treatment of polio.

The shortage of nurses, Mylod said, makes it more urgent than ever before for volunteers in the area covered to come to the hospital as polio emergency volunteers. As such, they will assist registered nurses in tasks which do not call for special training, relieving the nurses for the more important work of caring for patients.

William Kelly, National Foundation chapter chairman, Ulster county, expressed the relief which parents in his area will feel when assured that adequate care will be at hand for polio patients during the coming summer months.

"We all know how unpredictable polio is," he said. "It is good to know that within a short distance from our county is a well-equipped hospital for treatment and care of possible victims. Naturally we all wish that our county will be spared this summer. However, preparedness is half the battle won."

Among others attending the meeting were Drs. R. L. Vought, of White Plains; Robert H. Broad, Kingston, and R. R. Fear, Poughkeepsie, all representing the State Department of Health and representatives of the Benedictine Hospital, Kingston; E. A. Horton Memorial Hospital, Middletown; Northern Hospital, Rhinebeck and St. Luke's Hospital, Newburgh.

Others were National Foundation Chapter Chairmen James Welsh, Orange county and Judge H. B. Spriggs, Sullivan county.

Choose Right Griddle

In buying a griddle, choose one made of a material that distributes heat well and is heavy enough not to warp. Cast or heavy sheet aluminum is a good material and so is the new magnesium alloy that can be used and cleaned like aluminum.

Vassar to Provide 20 Rooms for Use Of Polio Patients

Adequate hospital facilities to care for infantile paralysis patients from a four-county area were promised today by Ellison Capers, administrator of the Vassar Brothers Hospital, Poughkeepsie. The area includes Dutchess, Orange, Sullivan and Ulster counties.

The decision to set aside a 20-room ward from June 15 on for exclusive use of polio patients followed a meeting at the hospital called by John Foerst, Albany State Representative of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. Present were volunteer Chapter Chairmen of the National Foundation from the four counties, representatives of other hospitals in the area, doctors and representatives of the State Board of Health.

In his opening remarks Mr. Foerst pointed out that the polio season is again at hand.

"It is necessary at this early date to make all preparations against any possible epidemic in this area," he said. "Vassar Brothers Hospital, through March of Dimes funds, is exceptionally well equipped to handle polio patients as it has in the past two years."

Chief obstacle in the way of the Polio Center it was explained by Mr. Capers and his assistant, Louis Breglie, is an acute shortage of nurses. They asked representatives of other hospitals in the area for assurance that they would furnish emergency nursing aid for periods ranging up to five days.

"Polio nurses are recruited by the National Foundation through the American Red Cross," Mr. Capers said. "This requires a little time since nurses often have to be brought in from other states."

Thomas Mylod, Dutchess county chapter chairman of the National Foundation, told the meeting that his chapter will finance a study course in the care and treatment of polio patients for two nurses from Vassar Brothers. They will attend the Nursing Institute conducted by the New York State Department of Health at Syracuse University from June 16-27. In addition, the chapter plans to send a physician to Children's Hospital, Boston, for a ten-day refresher course in the treatment of polio.

The shortage of nurses, Mylod said, makes it more urgent than ever before for volunteers in the area covered to come to the hospital as polio emergency volunteers. As such, they will assist registered nurses in tasks which do not call for special training, relieving the nurses for the more important work of caring for patients.

William Kelly, National Foundation chapter chairman, Ulster county, expressed the relief which parents in his area will feel when assured that adequate care will be at hand for polio patients during the coming summer months.

"We all know how unpredictable polio is," he said. "It is good to know that within a short distance from our county is a well-equipped hospital for treatment and care of possible victims. Naturally we all wish that our county will be spared this summer. However, preparedness is half the battle won."

Among others attending the meeting were Drs. R. L. Vought, of White Plains; Robert H. Broad, Kingston, and R. R. Fear, Poughkeepsie, all representing the State Department of Health and representatives of the Benedictine Hospital, Kingston; E. A. Horton Memorial Hospital, Middletown; Northern Hospital, Rhinebeck and St. Luke's Hospital, Newburgh.

Others were National Foundation Chapter Chairmen James Welsh, Orange county and Judge H. B. Spriggs, Sullivan county.

THE RUMINATOR

By HUMPHREY B. NEILL
A Column of Contrary Opinion

It is an interesting speculation, the Ruminator thinks, to contrarily explore this question; namely, will a Truman-type, tough-boy campaign work this year as it did in 1948?

This query comes within the field of public psychology, obviously, because it is the "crowd" that the campaigners will be after. There is a certain set number of votes, running into the many millions, that will be in the Republican and Democratic columns regardless of personalities or oratory.

It is the "changeable crowd"—the voters who are influenced by the campaigns — that will be affected one way or the other by the Truman type of campaign. Politicians refer to this group as the "independent voters." The Ruminator questions this designation. The word "independent" implies a person of independent and individual judgment. It suggests people who reason out things. I doubt very much that this group is entitled to this complimentary tag. It seems to me that this "changeable crowd" is, in the vast majority, an emotional body — people who cast their votes finally because of their built-up emotions and sentimental feelings. The independent voter, I believe, makes up his mind well in advance of election day and pays little heed to the oratory and campaign caterwauling. While the independent may shift from one party to the other his change of mind is based more upon reason than upon emotion.

If my analysis of the large shifting vote is correct, then it will be worthwhile to consider briefly wether, as mentioned, a Truman-type, tough-boy campaign will work again this year.

The "crowd" is fickle and, while subject to emotional appeals, does not always respond to the same sentiments.

It is evident from Mr. Truman's recent political speeches—the one before the annual banquet of Americans for Democratic Action, for example—that he intends to go all out in support of the Democratic nominee and will adopt tactics far rougher, if anything, than he employed in 1948.

Vilification and abuse always appeal to a given number of people. It is impossible to offset this type of an appeal by reasoning or logic. It becomes a nasty case of one group outdoing the other in name-calling: Mr. Truman's latest being the "isolationist dinosaur wing" that rules the Republican party which, he asserts, "favors the corporations." The old stuff, obviously, but especially timely at the moment when the wicked corporations have taken their case against him (the steel seizures case) to the Supreme Court.

However, we have to keep in mind, I believe, that this sort of worn-out abuse may not work so strongly as before because of the fact even the unions now recognize that if Mr. Truman seized the steel plants some other president might seize the unions. It is possible that many millions of workers will commence to question if the rough and tough attitude toward business, corporations, and "capital," is, after all, the procedure which will create the best system for everyone. Some of the editorials in labor magazines and newspapers indicate the fears of labor over the seizure action.

There is no question that the emotional appeals will win the crowds this year as they have in the past, but there is the possibility that the Truman formula will not be the correct formula to use.

However, if the Truman system is to be beaten, the Republicans will of necessity have to create a crowd-appeal of their own. Certainly, a lofty, chilly, "reasonable" campaign will not win the eection for the Republicans.

Inasmuch as Mr. Truman has already taken a few left-hand shots at General Eisenhower (at the ADA banquet) perhaps the general's ire will be sufficiently aroused so that he will speak out irately before the nominating conventions. Then, if he should be nominated, he will have to take off the gloves and go at it with bare knuckles, if he hopes to win. This is one side of the general we know little about. Will he attack the Truman administration and forge emotional gibes which will turn people away from the Fair Deal? Senator Taft would certainly be tougher. Other Republican candidates do not seem to have an outstanding ability to arouse the public, so everything will be in doubt for months. However, it wil be interesting to hold the contrary thought in mind that perhaps the "dinosaurs" will wake up and put on a mammoth fight.

New York Settles Suit

New York, May 21 (AP) — The city has settled for $39,500 a $150,000 damage suit brought against Grover Whalen, the city's official greeter, and New York city by a former paratrooper. Charles Leoutsacos, 37, of Manhattan, charged he was struck by a city-owned automobile driven by Whalen Jan. 7, 1951 and that both his legs were broken. The settlement was reached yesterday during trial of the suit before Justice Samuel Di Falco and a jury. By its terms, the suit against Whalen was discontinued, with the city paying $37,500 damages, plus $2,000 for medical expenses.

Here at the Richard Hudnut Salon we recommend the DuBarry 7-Day Wonder Treatment for teen-age skin. Try it and see how it gives your skin a fresh, beautiful start in life.

First, cleanse your skin thoroughly with DuBarry Cleansing Cream for your skin type—DuBarry Special Cleansing Cream, if your skin tends to be oily . . . DuBarry Cleansing Cream for Dry Skin if your skin tends to be dry. Smooth it on with upward and outward strokes, then tissue it off. Use at least two applications.

Next, saturate a cotton pad with DuBarry Skin Freshener and remove all traces of cream to leave the skin thoroughly cleansed.

Now shake a teaspoonful of DuBarry Special Cleansing Preparation into the palm of your hand and add enough water to make a thin paste. Massage well into face and neck, except around the eyes. When mask has dried, flake off mixture with a dry washcloth, working briskly with upward and outward rotary strokes. Remember: easy does not do it. Rinse briskly with cool water.

THE RUMINATOR

By HUMPHREY B. NEILL
A Column of Contrary Opinion

It is an interesting speculation, the Ruminator thinks, to contrarily explore this question; namely, will a Truman-type, tough-boy campaign work this year as it did in 1948?

This query comes within the field of public psychology, obviously, because it is the "crowd" that the campaigners will be after. There is a certain set number of votes, running into the many millions, that will be in the Republican and Democratic columns regardless of personalities or oratory.

It is the "changeable crowd"—the voters who are influenced by the campaigns — that will be affected one way or the other by the Truman type of campaign. Politicians refer to this group as the "independent voters." The Ruminator questions this designation. The word "independent" implies a person of independent and individual judgment. It suggests people who reason out things. I doubt very much that this group is entitled to this complimentary tag. It seems to me that this "changeable crowd" is, in the vast majority, an emotional body — people who cast their votes finally because of their built-up emotions and sentimental feelings. The independent voter, I believe, makes up his mind well in advance of election day and pays little heed to the oratory and campaign caterwauling. While the independent may shift from one party to the other his change of mind is based more upon reason than upon emotion.

If my analysis of the large shifting vote is correct, then it will be worthwhile to consider briefly wether, as mentioned, a Truman-type, tough-boy campaign will work again this year.

The "crowd" is fickle and, while subject to emotional appeals, does not always respond to the same sentiments.

It is evident from Mr. Truman's recent political speeches—the one before the annual banquet of Americans for Democratic Action, for example—that he intends to go all out in support of the Democratic nominee and will adopt tactics far rougher, if anything, than he employed in 1948.

Vilification and abuse always appeal to a given number of people. It is impossible to offset this type of an appeal by reasoning or logic. It becomes a nasty case of one group outdoing the other in name-calling: Mr. Truman's latest being the "isolationist dinosaur wing" that rules the Republican party which, he asserts, "favors the corporations." The old stuff, obviously, but especially timely at the moment when the wicked corporations have taken their case against him (the steel seizures case) to the Supreme Court.

However, we have to keep in mind, I believe, that this sort of worn-out abuse may not work so strongly as before because of the fact even the unions now recognize that if Mr. Truman seized the steel plants some other president might seize the unions. It is possible that many millions of workers will commence to question if the rough and tough attitude toward business, corporations, and "capital," is, after all, the procedure which will create the best system for everyone. Some of the editorials in labor magazines and newspapers indicate the fears of labor over the seizure action.

There is no question that the emotional appeals will win the crowds this year as they have in the past, but there is the possibility that the Truman formula will not be the correct formula to use.

However, if the Truman system is to be beaten, the Republicans will of necessity have to create a crowd-appeal of their own. Certainly, a lofty, chilly, "reasonable" campaign will not win the eection for the Republicans.

Inasmuch as Mr. Truman has already taken a few left-hand shots at General Eisenhower (at the ADA banquet) perhaps the general's ire will be sufficiently aroused so that he will speak out irately before the nominating conventions. Then, if he should be nominated, he will have to take off the gloves and go at it with bare knuckles, if he hopes to win. This is one side of the general we know little about. Will he attack the Truman administration and forge emotional gibes which will turn people away from the Fair Deal? Senator Taft would certainly be tougher. Other Republican candidates do not seem to have an outstanding ability to arouse the public, so everything will be in doubt for months. However, it wil be interesting to hold the contrary thought in mind that perhaps the "dinosaurs" will wake up and put on a mammoth fight.

New York Settles Suit

New York, May 21 (AP) — The city has settled for $39,500 a $150,000 damage suit brought against Grover Whalen, the city's official greeter, and New York city by a former paratrooper. Charles Leoutsacos, 37, of Manhattan, charged he was struck by a city-owned automobile driven by Whalen Jan. 7, 1951 and that both his legs were broken. The settlement was reached yesterday during trial of the suit before Justice Samuel Di Falco and a jury. By its terms, the suit against Whalen was discontinued, with the city paying $37,500 damages, plus $2,000 for medical expenses.

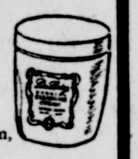
Teen Tips from the Richard Hudnut Salon

Teen-age is the time when you want to look your best for parties, dances, dates, and him! But how, oh how, can you look your best when your "skin" is in the process of changing to a "complexion" and problems are, at least, galore?

Here at the Richard Hudnut Salon we recommend the DuBarry 7-Day Wonder Treatment for teen-age skin. Try it and see how it gives your skin a fresh, beautiful start in life.



First, cleanse your skin thoroughly with DuBarry Cleansing Cream for your skin type—DuBarry Special Cleansing Cream, if your skin tends to be oily . . . DuBarry Cleansing Cream for Dry Skin if your skin tends to be dry. Smooth it on with upward and outward strokes, then tissue it off. Use at least two applications.

Next, saturate a cotton pad with DuBarry Skin Freshener and remove all traces of cream to leave the skin thoroughly cleansed.

Now shake a teaspoonful of DuBarry Special Cleansing Preparation into the palm of your hand and add enough water to make a thin paste. Massage well into face and neck, except around the eyes. When mask has dried, flake off mixture with a dry washcloth, working briskly with upward and outward rotary strokes. Remember: easy does not do it. Rinse briskly with cool water.

Jewel Thefts Occur In Manhattan Hotels

New York, May 22 (AP)—Jewel thefts totaling almost $33,000 were reported yesterday by two women residing in separate hotels.

Mrs. Gilbert Harrison, great granddaughter of James G. Blaine, Republican nominee for president in 1884, said gems valued at $24,750 were taken from her Hotel Plaza suite. Police fixed the time of the burglary between May 14 and 19.

Mrs. C. T. Fernandez, of Rio De Janeiro, Brazil, reported an $8,000 diamond ring missing from her suitcase in her room at the Hotel Roosevelt.

Police said they believed Mrs. Fernandez lost or misplaced the ring, since two other equally valuable rings and $600 in cash remained intact in the suitcase.

Mrs. Harrison is the wife of Gilbert Harrison, executive secretary of the World Veterans Fund, a charitable organization.

The former Nancy Blaine of Chicago, Mrs. Harrison is a granddaughter of Mrs. Emmons Blaine and also great granddaughter of Cyrus Hall McCormick, inventor of the reaper.

County Meeting Is Attended by New Shandaken 'Vols'

The newly organized M. F. Whitney Hose Company No. 2 of Shandaken attended the meeting of the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association at Big Indian Tuesday night.

About 200 firemen attended the session as guests of the Big-Indian-Oliverea companies and the M. F. Whitney Hose Company No. 1, of Phoenicia.

Films on the fire training school were shown by George Bedell, of Big Indian, and Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy of Kingston, chairman of the mutual aid committee, reported that 35 mutual aid calls were made in the county from April 17 to May 20.

A delegation from Rockland county representing the inter-county Elmendorf committee dealing with resolutions to be presented to the state legislature, attended, but the local association had no resolutions to be forwarded this month.

The committee arranging for the annual convention to be held in Saugerties in July reported progress, and said it would present a more detailed report in June.

The meeting adjourned in respect to the memory of George Tompkins of Stone Ridge, who died April 20, and Joseph Udelevitz, of the Wiltwyck Company, Kingston, who died May 18.

The June meeting will be held in Hurley where the firemen will be guests of the Hurley fire company.

All union barber shops in the city will be open all day Monday, May 26, due to the Memorial Day holiday next Friday, May 30, it was announced today. The shops will remain open until 6 p. m. Thursday, the day before the holiday.

Canada has increased its hydroelectric power output by starting kilowat production at the Des Joachims, Chenaux, and La Cave developments in Ontario.

Favors Fluoridation

Editor, The Freeman

The May 6th, 1952 issue of your esteemed paper, in the section "Letters to The Editor" has been brought to my attention. You published a letter in this column, signed: Warren J. Sussin, Chiropractor. In this letter Chiropractor Sussin infers that I either raised my voice in caution against or am opposed to fluoridation of public water supply.

I do not know the source of his information, for in all my talks and writings on the subject of fluoridation of water I have been enthusiastically in favor of the process. I consider the experiment conducted in Newburgh, N. Y., as most satisfactory and of tremendous public health value to the people of Newburgh in minimizing decay of the teeth. The same results are obtained in many communities in other sections of the United States.

We appreciate the willingness of Kingston, N. Y., to participate as a control city in the experiment so that factual data can be obtained from fluoridation of the water supply in Newburgh can be weighed after the ten year span of the experiment. To date the expected decay of teeth in children of Newburgh has been reduced some sixty per cent as against those communities which have not yet chemically fluoridated the water supply. The fluoridation of public water supply has proven safe to all and efficacious in minimizing decay of teeth.

I consider fluoridation of the water supply of any community safe and of great public health benefit, providing the chemical is added to the water in the proportions recommended by the medical, dental or public health authorities, i.e.: one (1) part of sodium to one (1) million parts of water. The fluoridation of public water supply is the only positive therapy to date that gives promise of developing a partial immunity to the decay of teeth.

Thanking you for giving me the opportunity of replying to Chiropractor Sussin.

Very truly yours,
C. RAYMOND WELLS, DDS.
Past President American Dental Association

Seek Volunteers To Push Cancer Drive Over Top

Volunteer workers are now being recruited to pass from house to house with coin boxes in order to put the 1952 Kingston Cancer Crusade over the top, it was announced today by John L. Larkin, city chairman.

Volunteer workers may "enlist in this great fight," Larkin said, by calling the American Cancer Society at Kingston 6400. The date for the house-to-house canvass has been tentatively set for the first week in June. Until that time, Larkin said, those who still have not sent their checks may do so by making them payable to George C. Bode, treasurer, and mailing them to him at the Central Branch of the Kingston Trust Company, Broadway, Kingston, N. Y.

"If everyone will give something, no matter how little," Larkin stated, "the people of Kingston can make the 1952 Cancer Drive a success. If we are ever going to conquer this dread killer each community must contribute its proportionate share to the fight."

The annual crusade, both on a local and national level, is rapidly coming to a close, Larkin said, pointing out that the house-to-house canvass would conclude the drive in Kingston.

Circumstances under which her mother was admitted to the hospital were to be explained by letter, Mrs. DuBois said.

Los Angeles, May 22 (AP)—Film director Andre Detoth caused her "grevious mental and physical anguish" actresses Veronica Lake charges in a divorce suit. Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

I wonder how many folks remember Memorial Day at the gone but not forgotten Kingston Point Park. I have an item of May 7, 1897 which reads in part: "The 16 piece Oriental Band and Orchestra under the direction of Professor Stiehl was planning for a big opening celebration on Memorial Day. The Mary Powell was also being decked out with new furniture by Stock and Cordts in exquisite velours, royal moquettes, mohair plushes and other luxurious fabrics.

Another park was called Fly Mountain Park at New Salem. It was owned as I remember by Frank Haber, who also owned "Minnie the Yacht." The Minnie carried passengers to Eddyville and Creek Locks. Some folks have told me that "Minnie" could lower her stacks and even remove her pilot house to make the locks to tow barges through the D. & H. Canal. But I was told later on that it was the Cornell Steamboat Co. tugboat "Rondout" which was used for that purpose. As I remember my father used to take me on a small yacht on Sundays to this park. They had a small hand pushing merry-go-round. It could be entirely closed with big boards. I was quite little at the time and do not remember the details of the various rides in that park but my father was quite intrigued by them as they were so original. Perhaps other folks remember. My father made a habit of taking me different places each Sunday. So many folks seemed to know him around these parts that he was always taken through the "inner sanctum" and shown the workings of these various mysterious places. I just tagged along.

I heard a great deal about that merry-go-round years later from my father, although to me it was just a ride on a "horsie." Perhaps other folks remember how the walls could be brought up to make it an indoor merry-go-round and for nice summer days it was an outdoor ride. I remember the whole park was situated on a sort of high green grassy hill and there were refreshments for sale. It was small but nice and cozy.

In mentioning historical markers of Ulster county I received a very interesting letter from Mrs. Elizabeth Lasher Russell of 190 Washington avenue, Saugerties. She writes in part: "I am enclosing a list of the markers in and near the village of Saugerties. They were secured through the State Department of Education, Albany, through the cooperation of the Chamber of Commerce and Saugerties Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, the latter organization furnishing the historical data."

Mrs. Russell further states: "These historical markers were dedicated on May 13, 1938 when a pilgrimage was made. Each marker site was visited and brief addresses given, in many instances by descendants." Now that is the best information I have received on placing of these markers so far. I will now check Mrs. Russell's list against Dr. Albert Corey's and will send him the information she sent me. Mrs. Russell sent me a typewritten list of the markers. W. G. Tirrell from Dr. Corey's office was here a short time ago wishing to know if I had further information.

Gets 180 Days in Jail For Indecent Act

Frank James Smith, 51, no home, was sentenced to 180 days in the county jail by Justice of the Peace Roy Webber of the town of Marbletown after Smith pleaded guilty Wednesday night to a charge of indecent exposure, state police reported.

Sergeant Arthur A. Reilly and Trooper Michael Lisman made the arrest after receiving a complaint that Smith had exposed himself to a four-year-old child along a back road in the township, state police said.

Explosion Case Is Still in Court

An action for injuries and for damage to property, brought by Joseph Santiago and his wife against Charles Bednar and another, was continued in Supreme Court today. Plaintiffs allege that due to a defective installation of a bottled gas at their Shandaken premises, an explosion took place which wrecked the gas stove, damaged property and inflicted injuries to Mrs. Santiago.

Plaintiffs allege there must have been a leak in the system which permitted gas to accumulate in the stove and cause an explosion when a match was struck to light the gas.

Abraham Streifer appears for plaintiffs and Cashin & Ewig for defendants.

A negligence action, Emil Ruoff against Albert J. Brueneault, was announced settled. Peter H. Harp for plaintiff and Cook & Cook for defendant.

Reports Car Driven Over Sidewalk

Mrs. Milton Tompkins of 44 Foxhall avenue reported to the local police at 4:40 p. m., yesterday that while she was stopped for a traffic light at Hasbrouck and Foxhall avenues, a car drove over the sidewalk to avoid stopping for the light.

The car she said was driven up on the sidewalk near 378 Hasbrouck avenue. It went past the Hasbrouck avenue garage and the light, around the corner past Boscherini's shoe shop and then back into the street on Foxhall avenue.

Mrs. Tompkins said that her child and others ride cycles on that sidewalk and she was concerned as to what might have happened, had any of the children been there. The police were supplied with a license number and it was expected that a warrant would be issued for arrest of the driver. No warrant had been executed at press time, however.

The interest rate was .94 per cent on the notes which become effective June 5 and extend to next Dec. 5. The bids were opened at the housing authority's office in the city hall at 3:30 p. m.

Cost of the project from its inception to next Dec. 5 will be met through the loan notes. The final and permanent financing step of the local housing authority is scheduled to become effective next December.

Preliminary work on the project including foundations, is now under way. It will accommodate nearly 100 families when completed.

To Hear Cutler Petition May 29th

The hearing on a petition by George Bernard Cutler, Attica prison inmate, to set aside two 20-year-old judgments has been rescheduled before Supreme Court Justice Roscoe V. Elsworth on May 29.

The hearing, originally scheduled for May 16 and later adjourned, was ordered directing the district attorney to "show cause" why the judgments against Cutler in 1931 and 1933 should not be vacated and set aside. Cutler has contended that he was not advised of his rights to counsel in either case.

Rota Held for Grand Jury

Louis Rota, 43, of 132 Hasbrouck avenue, waived examination and was held for the grand jury on a charge that he illegally sold firecrackers, when he appeared before City Judge Raymond J. Mino today. Rota was arrested May 14 on complaint that he sold three packages of firecrackers to a 16-year-old boy in violation of a section of the Penal Law banning sale or possession of fireworks except innocuous caps and sparklers. Custody Is Awarded

Santa Monica, Calif., May 22 (AP)—The frequently acrimonious court battles between actress Jean Wallace and her former husband, Franchot Tone, over custody of their two children appear to be ended. Miss Wallace was awarded joint legal custody of her sons, Pascal, 8, and Thomas, 6, in a court session yesterday. Tone admitted he is satisfied with the kind of home the children have with Miss Wallace and her present husband, actor Cornel Wilde. Tone had asked permission of the court to take the boys with him to make their permanent home in New York. He was given legal custody when he and Miss Wallace were divorced in 1948, but she retained their physical custody.

SPCA Will Build Garage and Pen

At the meeting this week of the Ulster County Society for prevention of Cruelty to Animals, it was voted to use the $1,500 available for erecting a garage and pen on the association's property off Route 28 on the Sawkill road.

Decision was made after discussion as to whether more should be borrowed for expansion of the project, but the consensus was that the conservative start would be the advantageous procedure.

Mrs. Herbert Cutler of Kingston, president of the society, presided over the session at which it was decided to name two more members to the board of directors.

It was also decided to purchase a camera for use by the society's agent, Ray Winne, in recording conditions under which animals are kept, when complaints are filed with the society.

The society, it was announced by A. J. P. Seitz, public relations representative, has a booth at the YW Hobby Show in the Kingston Municipal Auditorium, which is one of the popular attractions with adult and child animal lovers.

Steals Ring, Feeds Babe

New York, May 22 (AP)—A knife-wielding robber bound a young mother with picture wire yesterday and stole her $6,000 ring—but before he left he fed the baby. The mother, 20-year-old Mrs. Anita Laken, said she was fixing lunch for her 18-month-old son, Lane, when a man rang the doorbell and said he was with the Office of Price Stabilization. Hinting that Mrs. Laken's rent might be reduced, the man left. In 15 minutes he was back and this time produced a knife. He bound Mrs. Laken to a chair with the wire and took the ring. The mother pleaded to be released because the baby was ill and it was time for his medicine. "I'll give him his medicine," the man said, and he did. "He needs his milk, too," said Mrs. Laken. The robber heated the bottle, fed the baby, and fled.

Cheese Spread

Prepare a cheese spread and have it on hand in the refrigerator for snacks. One-quarter pound of blue cheese mixed with one-half pound of cream cheese makes a good basis; then add such seasonings as Worcestershire sauce, lemon juice, or mustard.

Bard College Invites Public to Hear Known Musicians in Concert

ALICE SMILEY

Alice Smiley, violinist of Lake Mohonk, and Paul Nordoff, composer-pianist, will give a concert at Bard College on Tuesday, May 27, at 8:30 o'clock in Bard Hall. The public is invited to attend.

After graduating from the University of California, Los Angeles, Mrs. Smiley won a three-year fellowship at the Juilliard Graduate School of Music in New York where she studied violin with Albelt Spalding. She has also studied with Boris Koutzen. She has been a soloist with many symphony orchestras, has broadcast over the major networks, and has made many chamber music recordings for Columbia Records. Her Town Hall debut was made in 1948. Recently she has been teaching at Vassar and at New Paltz.

Mr. Nordoff is a graduate of the Philadelphia Conservatory of Music and also attended the Juilliard Graduate School of Music in New York. He studied piano with Olga Samaroff Stokowski and composition with Rubin Goldmark. As a teacher he has been head of the Composition Department of the Philadelphia Conservatory; assistant professor of music at Michigan State College; and is now professor of music at Bard College.

Awards and Commissions

He was a Guggenheim Fellow in 1933 and 1935; won the Bearns Prize, Columbia University in 1933, and the Pulitzer Prize in 1940. His commissions include works composed for The League of Composers; St. Louis Little Symphony; The Olga Samaroff Foundation; Columbia University; and Eugene List and Carroll Glen. Mr. Nordoff has also composed incidental music for several of Katherine Cornell's productions and for dance works of Martha Graham, Doris Humphrey and Agnes DeMille.

Program

Their program will open with Sonata 1 by Bach followed by the Sonata III, Opus 108, by Brahms. The final number will be Lyric Sonata, a new work by Nordoff, commissioned by the Olga Samaroff Foundation and dedicated to Madam Samaroff which was first played in New York a few weeks ago.

Ulster Grange Plans For Community and Youth Rally in June

Plans were initiated for a youth rally in June at a meeting of Ulster Grange 969 in Ulster Park Wednesday evening. Suggestions were also adopted for community service projects to become active immediately. George M. Hard, master, presided.

The recent census taken of young people in the nearby rural areas of Ulster Park has been completed and Mrs. Hilda Hopkins, youth committee chairman, reported a date for a rally will be announced shortly. The purpose of the rally is to organize suitable activities for the young people in the area. At the time of the meeting, the young people will be given an opportunity to express their preferences to the end that a definite program may be scheduled.

Assisting Mrs. Hopkins on this committee are Mrs. Gottfried Berger, Union Center; Mrs. Harold E. Jones, West Park; and Mrs. Richard Gendreau, Ulster Park and Mrs. Henry D. Polhemus, Port Ewen.

Mrs. Mabel Coons, teacher at school, District 4, was named chairman of the Community Service Project; Mrs. William Hendrikx, a co-chairman heading up the landscaping committee and Henry M. Cameron, co-chairman, highway beautification.

Work Project

By a unanimous vote, the members authorized the painting and necessary repairs to the Grange building. To keep within the budget, members agreed to do the work themselves. The Service and Hospitality Committee named Saturday, June 7, as the opening date for the project. This committee will undertake a general housecleaning of the Grange building while the men busy themselves with painting and repairs. At the end of the day, a pot luck supper will be served.

A Memorial Day program directed by Harold V. Story, lecturer, was presented. Individual participants included Walter Herring of Highland, and the Mmes. C. C. DuMond, Jr., William Hendrikx, and George Villiem, Jr.

Refreshments were served by the committee. Mr. Herring was chairman.

Just a Theory

Although in theory a mile of railroad rail welded together would change length as much as 4 or 5 feet between summer and winter temperatures, it has been found in practice that this does not happen.

YWCA Selects Name For B & P Groups At Annual Seminar

The Service League of the Y.W.C.A. was the name chosen for the annual seminar of the Business and Professional Women of the Y.W.C.A. whose conference this year was held at the local Y.W.C.A. Saturday, May 17. Y.W. Business Women's Clubs from Albany, Gloversville and Syracuse were present.

The program for the day began with morning registration and a coffee hour. This was followed by a period of program exchanges which was conducted by Miss Mary Polhemus, conference chairman. Service work projects, ideas for money raising and club programs were related and discussed.

The speaker for the luncheon meeting was Miss Marianne Davis of Kingston who spoke of her travels through Greece, Egypt, Italy, Austria and Germany as a member of the Army Special Services Entertainment Branch. Her lecture was illustrated with colored slides.

Conducted Tour

At the business meeting which followed, an invitation was accepted from Albany to hold the next conference there on May 16, 1953 with the Planning Conference to be held October 4, 1952. The conference chairman will be selected from the Albany Club with the co-chairman from Syracuse. At the conclusion of the business meeting a conducted tour was arranged through the Senate House and Museum and Old Dutch Church.

Mrs. Clara LaPierre, co-chairman of the Seminar, presided at the evening banquet. The propram which followed began with group singing led by Mrs. Margaret Branigan of the local school system. Mrs. James Gaddis and John McCullough were splendid in a group of solos and duets.

The speaker for the evening was the Rev. David C. Gaise, pastor of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, who used as his topic the theme of the conference, High Time for Maturity. The Rev. Mr. Gaise said that maturity is growth, in the mental and spiritual spheres as well as in the physical. Maturity is never a recession, it is always a step forward. It is the fruition of everything that has gone before. We all grow old but we do not all mature in attitudes and ideas.

For all religions, the speaker concluded, "The world at its worst needs the church at its best. We are mature, the world needs us and the best is yet to be."

Disabled Veterans Make Buddy Poppies; Sale Begins Today

Thousands of disabled veterans confined to VA hospitals and soldiers' homes made the 20 million Buddy Poppies that will be ready for sale to the general public throughout the country prior to Memorial Day.

In this city, Commander Morgan Ryan of Joyce-Schirick Post 1386, VFW announced that the sale of Buddy Poppies opens today and continues through Saturday.

Public Warned

According to Commander Ryan, the Buddy Poppy carries a copyright label on which are printed the words "made by disabled veterans." The public is warned to avoid purchase of poppies that will not be identified with the government registered trademark of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Ever since 1922, when the VFW conducted the first nationwide sale of Buddy Poppies, the Veterans Administration has permitted disabled veterans under government care to assemble the materials that are needed to create the official VFW Buddy Poppy.

Veterans Administration officials have always regarded the making of Buddy Poppies by disabled veterans as a valuable form of occupational therapy treatment. The experience is regarded as a morale booster for convalescent patients, who benefit from the psychological reaction of proving useful to themselves, and to the cause which the VFW Buddy Poppy represents.

Asks Public Support

Commander Ryan annouces that the auxiliary of Joyce-Schirick Post 1386 will sponsor the sale this year, and asks the support of the public in their behalf.

MOTHER TAKES FATHER'S PLACE

An aunt of a bride-to-be explains: "My niece is going to be married soon at a fairly large wedding. Her father died when she was very young and her mother raised her alone, and because of this she would like her mother to give her away. Never having seen this before, quite a discussion has arisen in the family as to the propriety of such a plan. Will you please give us your opinion."

It is not at all unusual for the bride to walk up the aisle alone or with a near male relative and for her mother to answer "I do" from her place in the front pew when the clergyman asks, "Who giveth this woman—?" On occasion, a widowed mother has even been known to walk up the aisle with her daughter but to look well the mother's dress should be all of one color and severely plain, so as not to detract from the bride's.

Not at All Unusual

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it ever proper to give a child a nickname for his own name? For example, Larry instead of Lawrence? I do not particularly care for Lawrence but do like the name Larry. My husband thinks that Lawrence should appear on his birth certificate but that we may call him Larry. Will you please give us your opinion of this.

Answer: There are some nicknames that can be used perfectly well and sound like real names, and Larry is one of them.

Introductions

Dear Mrs. Post: When introducing my fiance to friends, is it necessary to explain who he is? In other words, do I say, "John Jones, my fiance" or is "John Jones" enough? (2) Also when introducing a relative, is it necessary to explain the relationship?

Answer: "John Jones—my fiance" is correct. (2) Yes, you naturally say, "My sister," "my cousin" or whoever.

UN Six to Repeat By Popular Request

So great has been the demand for a repeat performance by the United Nations Six at the YWCA Hobby Show in the municipal auditorium, they will again be featured tonight at 9 o'clock. This group appeared as part of the entertainment program on the opening night of the show.

With Tippy, will be three eight-weeks' old Siamese kittens. Miss Scott will be glad to tell people about the origin of the cat and the regular story of Siamese.

Victory for Coeds

Ithaca, N. Y., May 22 (AP)—The Cornell University phase of the collegiate lingerie war goes into the books as a victory for the coeds. An estimated 500 male students staged "panty raids" on three dormitories and two sororities last night, but did not gain entrance to the buildings. A few raiders got lacy trophies tossed by the girls. Most were discouraged by university police and water tossed by the besieged.

Dice found in the ancient tombs of Egypt are similar to those used by gamblers today.

Tanker Was Named For Kingstonian

The 630,00 gallon motor tanker F. L. Hayes which caught fire and sank following a collision last Thursday in the Chesapeake and Delaware canal below Wilmington, Delaware, was named for a former Kingston man, Fred L. Hayes of Roslyn, Long Island. Hayes is now engaged in the fuel oil business at Roslyn where he is president of the Nassau Utility Fuel Oil Corporation.

Hayes formerly resided in the Ponckhockie section of Kingston and was at one time employed by one of the automobile companies which manufactured cars in the former Peckham Foundry, now occupied by Electrol, Incorporated.

He left Kingston many years ago and was employed by one of the large oil companies and later engaged in the oil business himself on Long Island. He married Anna Munch of Kingston, a sister of the late Henry Munch who for many years was employed by The Freeman as stereotyper.

Hayes now owns Woodland Acres and is a frequent visitor to Kingston. Because of his position in the oil business the tanker was named for him. The F. L. Hayes was in collision with the SS Barbara Lykes near Wilmington last week. An explosion followed the collision and four crew members were killed when the high-test gasoline exploded. The Hayes was a 240-foot tanker with a capacity of 700,000 gallons of gasoline and was en route from Philadelphia to Baltimore at the time of the accident.

Anglo Mail Theft Amounts to $560,000

London, May 22 (AP) — The known loss in the biggest mail robbery in Britain's history shot up to $560,000 today, including $434,000 in cash.

It was learned also that the thieves, in their haste, left behind another $280,000.

Scotland Yard called in every available detective to help run down the seven masked men who slugged three mail truck guards and seized the fortune in registered mail a block off busy Oxford street just before dawn yesterday.

Disclosure of the huge currency loss came when insurance representatives posted rewards for arrest of the thieves and return of the cash.

Troops Fire Into Macao

Hong Kong, May 22 (AP)—Chinese Communist troops fired across the border into Portuguese Macao today, according to a telephone call from an Associated Press correspondent in Macao. He said Portuguese African troops returned the fire. Military authorities rushed artillery to the border area. There was no indication in Hong Kong whether the action presaged an invasion of the Portuguese colonly 50 miles west of Hong Kong or was merely a sporadic outburst of border fire.

Miss Elwyn to Attend Conference of Blind

Woodstock, May 22—Miss Eleanor Elwyn, of this village, who has been teaching for two years at the New York State School for the Blind at Batavia, has just been elected as one of three delegates to be sent by the school to attend this year's American Association of Instructors of the Blind conference, which is to be held in Louisville, Kentucky, from June 28 to July 3. The three instructors were elected by the teachers of the school, and all of their expenses will be paid by the state.

On March 29, Miss Elwyn's father, Leslie Elwyn and Mrs. Gladys Reynolds went to Batavia to attend a performance of a play, presented by the students at the school and directed by Miss Elwyn. The play was the dramatization by Perry Clark of the well-known book, Cheaper by the Dozen, and the entire cast was either totally or partially blind.

"It was simply unbelievable," Elwyn reported, "the way those youngsters performed, and if you didn't know they were blind, you wouldn't suspect it from watching them. They leapt onto the stage and raced about as well as children who could see."

A review in a local Batavia paper reported that "Throughout the play one was constantly aware of the abilities of Miss Eleanor Elwyn, the director. She had her cast on their toes, without a doubt. Timing, blocking, movement, all of the basic mechanics contributing to the success of any play, were carefully worked out and well planned. The play never lost its momentum from beginning to end."

An honor graduate of Kingston High School, Miss Elwyn, according to her father, "always knew what she wanted to do in the dramatic field. Graduated from Ithaca College, she majored in speech, English and the drama, and received her BA degree. She attended summer sessions at Columbia in New York and at Emerson College, Boston, where she took courses in the theatre and stage direction. Her MA degree was received from Cornell University after which she received the offer to teach at the State School of the Blind.

While still a high school student, Miss Elwyn appeared on several local radio programs and was featured on an interview with several 4-H Club girls on WGY, Schenectady.

Shortly after the performance of Cheaper by the Dozen, the director of the Batavia Players was taken ill and Miss Elwyn was asked to direct a play the club was producing.

Miss Elwyn expects to return to her home following the Kentucky conference, for a visit.

School Exhibition To Open Saturday

Woodstock, May 22 — The exhibition of paintings, drawings and craftwork by the children of the Woodstock School, held under the auspices of the Woodstock Parent-Teacher Association will open Saturday, May 24, with a tea from 3 to 5 p. m. at the Woodstock Art Gallery. The committee in charge for the afternoon, composed of mothers from the Daisy School District, is as follows: Mrs. Irving Cousins, chairman; Mrs. Fred Sandner, Mrs. Edward Ross and Mrs. Allen Wilbur.

The art gallery will be open throughout the following week from 3 to 5 p. m., and on Friday, Memorial Day, Saturday and Sunday, from 1 to 5 p. m. The gallery will be closed Monday and Tuesday during the day, June 2 and 3, and will reopen for the final P-TA meeting of the season Tuesday at 8 p. m., when Miss Rosabell Mann will be guest speaker.

Memorial Poppies to Be Sold Saturday

Woodstock, May 22—On Saturday, May 24, the townspeople will be asked to wear a red poppy. The day will be Poppy Day, when, once each year, Americans pay tribute, by wearing their memorial flower, the poppy, to those who gave their lives in this country's service during the two World Wars and the present Korean conflict.

The disabled veterans who make the poppies derive double benefit from the work. First it gives them their only chance to support themselves, and families. Second, the work is of real value in aiding their recovery.

The women who distribute the poppies, unlike the disabled veterans who make them, receive nothing for their efforts.

Mrs. Roger E. Grazier, poppy chairman, has taken the largest number of poppies ever to be sold in the town, 1,000 poppies, and she hopes they will all find their way to a lapel by the end of the day, May 24.

Woodstock Club Plans Gala Time Memorial Day

The Woodstock Country Club plans a gala opening during the Memorial Day week-end with tournaments, parties, and dinners scheduled beginning Friday evening, May 30. The new bridge, now under construction at the ninth hole, will be officially opened at this time.

Jim C. Hutchins, pro-manager of the club, said today that while the opening ceremonies will take place on Saturday, May 31, a preview cocktail party will take place at the club on Friday late afternoon.

Two Tournaments

The Saturday program will get under way in the afternoon with two tournaments, a Hogan and a kickers. These will be followed by a cocktail party from 5:30 to 6:30 p. m. and a buffet dinner. In the evening, golf pictures will be shown by Allen Waterous to be followed by dancing to the music of Fred Allen's orchestra.

Of special interest on Saturday, will be the official opening of the bridge now under construction at the ninth hole on the course. A long desired improvement at the club, the bridge has been made possible through the generous cooperation of Holly R. Cantine, member of the board of governors.

Bridge Span

The cable suspension and concrete bridge will have a span of 130 feet with steel fixtures, wooden platform and pipe hand rails. Besides being a most practical addition, it will also be very picturesque.

It was also announced that the limit of 125 family memberships is expected to be reached within the next few days. The club has three types of memberships, family, single golf, and social. Mr. Hutchins said the green fees have been raised this year.

Anthony DeLisio, president and Frank McCahill, vice-president, are co-chairmen of the membership committee which includes John Egan, Walter Seaman, Allen Dean Elwyn and Terry Staples.

Numerous Improvements

Numerous other improvements have been made in and around the club house during the past month, with others planned for the near future. The house committee, directed by the Board of Governors, has acquired new furniture, refinished floors, and applied a new coat of paint to some of the buildings.

In the near future, the kitchen will be enlarged and the porch on the rear of the club house will be extended to take in the view over the golf course. At present the view is restricted to the Sawkill Creek. The golf shop will be returned to its previous location and the building now being used for that purpose will be converted into a bath house for the young swimmers.

The office has been moved to new quarters facing the Saugerties road, to increase the locker space. Considerable landscaping is also being done.

Ladies Golf

To stir up more interest in ladies golf, a committee has been appointed comprising Mrs. Alice Marr, Mrs. Helen Dendy and Mrs. Helen Staples. They will arrange special programs.

The Men's Golf Committee, Allen Waterous, William Stiffler, Boyer Gonzales and Ted King, have formulated plans for many activities this season. The open tournament, a pro-amateur event, is scheduled for August.

Ladder Tournament Popular

Members evince enthusiasm in the ladder tournament. Mr. Hutchins described this as a very challenging feature. The top eight golfers will comprise a team to compete with Twaalfskill and other neighboring clubs. According to the pro-manager, the team may be expected to change weekly, as existing scores are topped.

The golf committee is also working with Harry Williams in an effort to lengthen the course. It is expected that several hundred yards will be added, said Mr. Hutchins, "to make it more of a championship course."

A program of social activities for the season will be announced later.

Village Gallery Adds New Building

Woodstock, May 22—The Rudolph Galleries will open May 31, with a new building addition to the former gallery. Besides increasing the exhibition space of the still active old gallery by two-thirds, the new building includes a private showroom, an office, racks of storage space and a workshop.

Artists represented in the gallery are Milton Avery, Arnold Blanch, Sigmund Menkes, Adolph Dehn, Marion Greenwood, Henry Mattson, Fletcher Marton, Eugene Ludins, Hannah Small, Nathaniel Kaz, Doris Lee, Jean Liberte, Anton Refregier, Sidney Laufman, Edward Millman, Stuart Edie, Arthur Zaidenberg, and others. Fine newcomers include Fannie Blumberg of Indiana and Florida and Robert Jackson of California.

Village Notes

156th Will Hold Operation Ashokan Saturday, Sunday

The entire 156th Field Artillery Battalion of the New York National Guard, which includes Batteries B and C from Poughkeepsie, will participate in Operation Ashokan, a field and map maneuver, this week-end on the State Armory property, North Manor avenue.

According to Lt. Col. Frank W. Harkin, commanding officer of the 156th, the exercise will begin at 1 p. m. Saturday and will continue through the day and night until Sunday at 5 p. m.

Meanwhile, announcement has been made that the final conference of the four-week series for young men of military draft age will be held Thursday at 8 p. m. at the State Armory.

Will Get Army Pay

All enlistees who join the local Guard prior to May 24 will have the advantage of being able to participate in Operation Ashokan. All necessary meals and equipment will be provided and regular army pay will prevail for all National Guard members.

Thursday's conference is one of four especialy arranged as a public service to assist young men and their parents.

The National Guard offers exceptional opportunities for young men to obtain excellent training with pay, rapid military advancement, entry into specialist schools, officer candidate schools, home study courses, appointment to the West Point Military Academy and many other attractive opportunities.

A special movie will be shown Thursday to all young men and their parents attending. Refreshments will be served.

On weekend maneuvers similar to the one scheduled this week, the battalion has generally traveled to Camp Smith at Peekskill or to one of the Hudson valley military academy training areas but after much planning it was decided to use the "home grounds" for this outdoor training.

All sections of the field artillery batteries will be set up and operating in the maneuver. Simulated artillery firing will be conducted, demonstrations and formal guard mounts will be instituted. Aerial operations will be conducted with the 156th Air Section. The entire battalion will bivouac and remain in the area during the entire 28-hour exercise.

Special church services also have been planned to accommodate the men on the armory grounds Sunday morning at 8 o'clock.

A movie program has been arranged for Saturday night to which all young men interested in learning more about how they can fulfill their military obligation here at home are most cordially invited. Refreshments will be available.

It also is anticipated that a large group of high school students will be on hand to witness the operation Saturday. Parents of young men also are urged to attend. A tour of the area will be conducted by informed personnel.

Young Men Invited

Young men between 17 and 18½ are particularly invited to accept the invitation of the 156th Field Artillery Battalion members to be on hand at the State Armory at 3:30 p. m. Saturday or during the evening phase to witness the various aspects of the training program and to see the material and equipment put to use.

Members of the local Guard units and the Poughkeepsie units have expressed themselves as anxious to demonstrate their abilities and to put to use the training they have received during the past year.

If you are using canned coconut in a curry dish, be sure to chop any long shreds into shorter lengths.

Polio Victims Go To Buffalo Center

New York, May 22 (AP)—Two young polio victims were put aboard a specially-equipped car at Grand Central Terminal last night for an overnight trip to Buffalo, where they will undergo special treatment.

Bound for the respirator rehabilitation center at the Chronic Diseases and Research Institute in Buffalo, Dennis Kelly, 6, of 106-24 154th street, Jamaica, Queens, and Raymond Saxton, 17, of 806 East 13th street, Brooklyn, were in good spirits.

The special car was arranged for and rented by the Greater New York Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

The Saxton boy, taken to the station in a special ambulance, is in an iron-lung. The younger boy wears a chest respirator.

Stricken in Fall

Both boys were stricken with the disease last fall and have been hospitalized since.

In addition to its regular electrical equipment, the railroad car, a combination type, was equipped with a series of four 600-ampere batteries in case of power failure.

The iron lung was placed in the baggage part of the car and a cot on which the Kelly boy could sleep was placed alongside it.

Cauliflowerets

Cook cauliflowerets in a small amount of boiling salted water only until they are tender-crisp. Meanwhile make a cheese sauce. Pour the sauce over the drained cooked cauliflower, sprinkle with pretty slices of pimiento-stuffed olives, and serve for a company meal.

Celery Curls

To make celery curls, cut the cleaned stalks in two-inch pieces; make four or five parallel cuts at each end for one-third the length of the pieces. Chill in ice water for at least an hour to allow the cut ends of the celery pieces to curl.

EAT WELL for Less

Take Canned Foods on Picnic

SKILLET TREATS for your Decoration Day picnic are easy to pack and carry in cans and will surely satisfy those fresh air appetites.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

No longer must Mother get up hours before the family to prepare the Decoration Day picnic meal. Now she finds many picnic ingredients neatly packed in cans and no worry about packing them safely.

Fresh air appetites are always sharp, so plan one or two hearty main dishes. Canned corned beef hash is one favorite. To serve, just heat in a skillet with slices of tomato, onion and green pepper.

Another delicious main dish is made from three canned products—one can of baked beans, one of sliced apples and two of Vienna sausage. Many are the varieties of canned meats which today offer a spectacular combination of flavor, nutrition, economy and convenience. For picnics, they are tops.

There are ham and liver spreads for easy sandwich makings, there are canned hamburgers and frankfurters which eliminate the hazard of carrying fresh meat in hot weather. Be sure to take along an efficient can opener.

A good tip in the beverage department is to fill your thermos with crushed ice and take your chilled canned or bottled beverages along separately. To serve, pour drinks over ice from thermos.

If you like cake for dessert but don't want to be concerned with packing to keep the frosting intact, make cupcakes, split them in the middle and frost the inside.

When it comes to fruits, bananas are easy to carry on an outing. So are apples.

Cauliflowerets

Cook cauliflowerets in a small amount of boiling salted water only until they are tender-crisp. Meanwhile make a cheese sauce. Pour the sauce over the drained cooked cauliflower, sprinkle with pretty slices of pimiento-stuffed olives, and serve for a company meal.

Celery Curls

To make celery curls, cut the cleaned stalks in two-inch pieces; make four or five parallel cuts at each end for one-third the length of the pieces. Chill in ice water for at least an hour to allow the cut ends of the celery pieces to curl.

Dodgers Re-Write Record Books In 15-Run Inning Against Reds

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Call the cops! Murder, Inc. is back in business at Brooklyn.

With 15—count 'em 15— record-breaking runs in the first inning. Boss Chuck (The Brain) Dressen's Dodgers did everything but bundle the Cincinnati Reds in a cement vest.

Dressen's Dodger ruffians even roughed up the little red book of baseball. The statisticians will be busy for days, typing new lines into the old book.

Five records got the rubber hose treatment while the Dodgers flexed their muscles for the home folks in a 19-1 rout of Cincy. They all got it in the first inning when 21 men went to bat, scored 15 runs, 12 of them after two were out, and 19 successive batters reached base safely.

Records and Debris

Maybe they'll find new broken records when they sweep out the wreckage at Brooklyn this morning. Here's what they found last night.

1. New modern major league record of most runs scored in an inning. 15. (All time high is 18 scored by Chicago Cubs, Sept. 6, 1883.)

2. New modern major league record for most times facing opposing pitcher in one inning, 21. (All time high is 23, by those same Cubs in '83.)

3. New major league record for runs scored after two were out, 12.

4. New major league record for most runs batted in one inning, 15.

5. New major league record for most men reaching base safely in succession, 19.

Just for good measure, Billy Cox, Pee Wee Reese and Duke Snider tied a record by going to bat three times in an inning and Reese, Snider, Jackie Robinson, Gil Hodges, George Shuba and Rube Walker tied another by scoring twice in the inning.

To rub it in, Pitcher Chris Van Cuyk's four hits—two of them in the big inning—were one more than he had in his big league career before last night.

Ewell Blackwell, the fellow the Dodgers are supposed to be trying to lure from Cincy in a trade, was the first victim. When he left it was 3-0, two of the runs coming on Snider's homer. Bud Byerly quickly ran it to 7-0. Herm Wehmeier raised the bid to 10-0 and Frank Smith finally ran it to 15-0. Smith also gave up the other Dodger runs, on a pair of two-run homers by Bobby Morgan in the third and fifth.

Ten Walks in Inning

In the 15-run inning, the Dodgers had 10 hits—eight of them singles—ten walks and two hit batsmen.

Brooklyn took over undisputed possession of the National League lead because the New York Giants split a day-night doubleheader with St. Louis. Cliff Chambers shut out the 1951 champs with four hits to hand Larry Jansen his first loss in the 3-0 day game. But Dave Koslo, that old Cardinal jinx, came back to rack up St. Louis for the 10th straight time since June 11, 1950 in the 8-1 game.

7th for Roberts

Robin Roberts of the Phillies won his seventh straight by turning back Pittsburgh, 7-3, the Pirates' 27th loss in 32 starts.

Detroit's Virgil Trucks ran his hitless string to 15 2/3 innings in a bid for a second straight no-hitter before Billy Hitchcock of the Philadelphia A's broke the spell with one out in the seventh inning. Truck's hitless string included one third of an inning against Chicago, May 9, nine innings against Washington last Thursday and yesterday's 6 1/3 frames.

Obviously nervous under the strain of trying to equal Johnny Vander Meer's 1938 record, Trucks lost his control after the hit and had to be removed in the eighth, Dick Littlefield finished up his two-hitter for a 5-1 victory.

Cleveland lengthened its lead to three full games in the American as Early Wynn and Reliefer Mike Garcia proved too much for the Boston Red Sox in a 5-1 night win. The St. Louis Browns helped the Tribe by knocking off second place Washington, 2-1, when Sid Hudson walked home the winning run with the bases loaded in the 10th innnig to give Satch Paige a relief decision.

Allie Reynolds turned back Chicago with five hits and delivered a triple and single in the New York Yankees' 5-1 win, their eighth in the last 10 games. The scheduled Chicago-at-Boston game in the National was rained out.

Game Postponed

Wet grounds forced postponement of Wednesday's City Baseball League contest between Wiltwyck Motors and Jones Dairy. The schedule resumes Sunday at 2:05 p. m. when Pucker Davis' Colonial Merchants make their seasonal debut against Chez Emile.

CYO Change

The CYO Softball League meeting scheduled for tonight has been postponed until Tuesday, May 27, at St. Mary's Hall.

YOUNGEST TEAM IN STATE BOWLING TOURNAMENT

1950 STATE CHAMPS FAIL TO REGAIN CROWN

HANDICAPPED ACE

CHARLIE FORD

For a young man who has been deformed since birth 26 years ago in Buffalo, Charlie Ford of the Bison City can knock down a lot of bowling pins when he finds the range.

Young Ford thrilled a large gallery at the Bowlodrome last weekend when he racked up a 700 gross triple in his team event. He had an actual score of 595 with solos of 217, 220 and 158.

But for a couple of wide splits in the closing frames of the third set, Ford would have rolled the top triple of his bowling career.

Ford has deformed hands and feet but three years of hard practice, persistence and determination have enabled him to develop a technique of his own. He cradles the ball on the inside of his elbows and flips out on the left side of the bed, somewhat in the style of a medicine ball. Ford's ball has good working qualities and he had the pins jumping on alleys 9 and 10.

His Only Sport

Because of his handicap, Ford was never able to participate in any kind of athletics as a youngster. Finally, a friend induced him to try bowling. He found the game interesting and worked hard to improve himself.

Three years later he pounds the maples at a 153 clip in the Bethlehem Steel League of Buffalo and is credited with a career high game of 243. He has not delivered a "600" set in league competition but has reached that mark several times in open competition.

Ford slumped in his singles and doubles events at the Bowlatorium but still finished with an all-events total just a few pins under 1800. That's a performance any able-bodied trundler will take, anytime.

Cools Off a Bit

Chicago, May 22 (AP)—Johnny Adams, the hottest jockey in the nation of the moment, cooled off a little yesterday but still rode two winners to number 14 in four days at Hawthorne. The Little Iola, Kas., rider entered yesterday's program with 12 winners out of 14 races in three days, a streak that included five victories in a row last Saturday, two on Monday and five straight Tuesday.

Booster Meeting

A meeting of all bowlers interested in forming the 1952-53 Booster Bowling League will be held Tuesday, May 27, at the Bowlodrome at 7:30 p. m. Sam Avnet, president, has requested a full attendance.

Yesterday's Stars

(By The Associated Press)

Batting—Chris Van Cuyk, Dodgers—His four hits in 19-1 rout of Cincinnati were one more than he had in his entire big league career.

Pitching—Virgil Trucks, Tigers—Ran hitless string to 15 2/3 innings before failing in bid for second straight no-hit game as Detroit whipped Philadelphia, 5-1.

LaMotta Impressive In Beating Hairston

Detroit, May 22 (AP)—At Jake LaMotta's age you can't fight slambang for 10 full rounds against a dancing youngster like Eugene (Silent) Hairston. So how did the 30-year-old Bronx Bull gain his unanimous decision over Hairston in a 10-round slugging match here last night?

"That's easy. I paced myself," grinned the happy veteran of 12 ring years who outweighed 22-year-old Hairston 168 to 160¼ pounds. "That's my best fight since I started the comeback."

Late Spurts Help

Jake, aiming for a light heavyweight title fight or a battle against the winner of the Randy Turpin-Don Cockell fight, saved most of his windmill clouting for the last 30 to 45 seconds of each round.

And the crowd of 10,232 who paid $32,393.10 to watch Jake's 21st fight in his so-called lucky city loved it. They roared when Jake started in whirlwind style to take the first three rounds of the nationally televised and broadcast battle.

Referee Clarence Rosen scored it 53-47. Judge Jack Aspery 55-45, and Judge Joe Lenahan 52-48. The AP scorecard read 55-45.

Central Recs Meet Tonight

A special meeting to make plans for the 1952 Central Rec Summer League will be held tonight at 8 o'clock at the Central Rec alleys, Railroad avenue.

Secretary Ray Houghtaling has invited all bowlers of the winter league and others interested to be on hand.

New York Hotshots Fail in ABC Test

Milwaukee, May 22 (AP)—Two more of the nation's top ranking bowling teams failed last night in their efforts to place among the top 10 in the American Bowling Congress tournament.

Cirlin Mercury, Brooklyn, N. Y., shot 2,752 while Dur-A-Craft Bowling Shirts, New York, had 2,740. Of their top stars, Frank Sartore of the Dur-A-Craft, 1950 ABC all events champion, made the best showing with 618. Tony Sparando had 577 and Marty Cassio 566 for the Mercurys.

These two 985-average teams were overshadowed by Kormandy's South Brook Tavern, of South Bound Brook, N. J. This quintet hit 2,814—high for the night—on games of 904, 902 and 1,008.

Mercurys had games of 836, 946 and 970 while Dur-A-Craft hit 852, 973 and 915.

Rookie Rocket Thrower Ronnie Necciai Fans 24 Batters in Class D Farewell

Bristol, Va.—Tenn., May 22 (AP)—The Bristol chapter of the fabulous "Necciai Strikeout Story" has ended.

For an overflow crowd which gathered to pay him homage, rocket Ron Necciai put a blazing climax last night to his brief career in the Class D Appalachian League.

He struck out 24 Kingsport, Tenn., batters and pitched a two-hit, 7-1 victory for the Bristol Twins. It was only eight nights earlier that he set a record for organized baseball by striking out 27 in a nine-inning, no-hit victory over Welch, W. Va.

The six-five, 19-year-old Pittsburgh Pirate farmhand from Monongahela, Pa., ran his strikeout total to 109 in 42 2/3 innings.

Branch Rickey Jr., vice president in charge of Pittsburgh's farm system, tabbed Necciai as definitely ready to move up. Rickey indicated Pirate executives probably will decide today on the young fireballer's next step.

Necciai is expected to fly Saturday to Pittsburgh for a medical checkup and to be assigned to another Pirate club. He may stay with the parent Pirates or be sent to the Hollywood Stars of the Pacific Coast League.

Necciai posted four wins in as many starts for Bristol, and twice saved victories in spectacular relief roles.

He whiffed 20 in his first appearance, 19 in his second, fanned 11 in a four-inning rescue stint, then romped to fame on the 27-strikeout total May 13.

Next time out, in relief, he set down eight in two and two-thirds innings.

Miami Beach, Fla.—Willie Pep, 129½, Hartford, Conn., outpointed Claude Hammond, 137½, North Bergen, N. J., 10.

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Call the cops! Murder, Inc. is back in business at Brooklyn.

With 15—count 'em 15— record-breaking runs in the first inning, Boss Chuck (The Brain) Dressen's Dodgers did everything but bundle the Cincinnati Reds in a cement vest.

And what did Dressen say? "Maybe we snapped out of our hitting slump." That wins the rubber ice pick as the understatement of the year.

Dressen's Dodger ruffians even roughed up the little red book of baseball. The statisticians will be busy for days, typing new lines into the old book.

Five records got the rubber hose treatment while the Dodgers flexed their muscles for the home folks in a 19-1 rout of Cincy. They all got it in the first inning when 21 men went to bat, scored 15 runs, 12 of them after two were out, and 19 successive batters reached base safely.

Records and Debris

Maybe they'll find new broken records when they sweep out the wreckage at Brooklyn this morning. Here's what they found last night.

1. New modern major league record of most runs scored in an inning. 15. (All time high is 18 scored by Chicago Cubs, Sept. 6, 1883.)

2. New modern major league record for most times facing opposing pitcher in one inning, 21. (All time high is 23, by those same Cubs in '83.)

3. New major league record for runs scored after two were out, 12.

4. New major league record for most runs batted in one inning, 15.

5. New major league record for most men reaching base safely in succession, 19.

Just for good measure, Billy Cox, Pee Wee Reese and Duke Snider tied a record by going to bat three times in an inning and Reese, Snider, Jackie Robinson, Gil Hodges, George Shuba and Rube Walker tied another by scoring twice in the inning.

To rub it in, Pitcher Chris Van Cuyk's four hits—two of them in the big inning—were one more than he had in his big league career before last night.

Ewell Blackwell, the fellow the Dodgers are supposed to be trying to lure from Cincy in a trade, was the first victim. When he left it was 3-0, two of the runs coming on Snider's homer. Bud Byerly quickly ran it to 7-0. Herm Wehmeier raised the bid to 10-0 and Frank Smith finally ran it to 15-0. Smith also gave up the other Dodger runs, on a pair of two-run homers by Bobby Morgan in the third and fifth.

Ten Walks in Inning

In the 15-run inning, the Dodgers had 10 hits—eight of them singles—ten walks and two hit batsmen.

Brooklyn took over undisputed possession of the National League lead because the New York Giants split a day-night doubleheader with St. Louis. Cliff Chambers shut out the 1951 champs with four hits to hand Larry Jansen his first loss in the 3-0 day game. But Dave Koslo, that old Cardinal jinx, came back to rack up St. Louis for the 10th straight time since June 11, 1950 in the 8-1 game.

7th for Roberts

Robin Roberts of the Phillies won his seventh straight by turning back Pittsburgh, 7-3, the Pirates' 27th loss in 32 starts.

Detroit's Virgil Trucks ran his hitless string to 15 2/3 innings in a bid for a second straight no-hitter before Billy Hitchcock of the Philadelphia A's broke the spell with one out in the seventh inning. Truck's hitless string included one third of an inning against Chicago, May 9, nine innings against Washington last Thursday and yesterday's 6 1/3 frames.

Obviously nervous under the strain of trying to equal Johnny Vander Meer's 1938 record, Trucks lost his control after the hit and had to be removed in the eighth, Dick Littlefield finished up his two-hitter for a 5-1 victory.

Cleveland lengthened its lead to three full games in the American as Early Wynn and Reliefer Mike Garcia proved too much for the Boston Red Sox in a 5-1 night win. The St. Louis Browns helped the Tribe by knocking off second place Washington, 2-1, when Sid Hudson walked home the winning run with the bases loaded in the 10th innnig to give Satch Paige a relief decision.

Allie Reynolds turned back Chicago with five hits and delivered a triple and single in the New York Yankees' 5-1 win, their eighth in the last 10 games. The scheduled Chicago-at-Boston game in the National was rained out.

Game Postponed

Wet grounds forced postponement of Wednesday's City Baseball League contest between Wiltwyck Motors and Jones Dairy. The schedule resumes Sunday at 2:05 p. m. when Pucker Davis' Colonial Merchants make their seasonal debut against Chez Emile.

YOUNGEST TEAM IN STATE BOWLING TOURNAMENT

1950 STATE CHAMPS FAIL TO REGAIN CROWN

HANDICAPPED ACE

CHARLIE FORD

For a young man who has been deformed since birth 26 years ago in Buffalo, Charlie Ford of the Bison City can knock down a lot of bowling pins when he finds the range.

Young Ford thrilled a large gallery at the Bowlodrome last weekend when he racked up a 700 gross triple in his team event. He had an actual score of 595 with solos of 217, 220 and 158.

But for a couple of wide splits in the closing frames of the third set, Ford would have rolled the top triple of his bowling career.

Ford has deformed hands and feet but three years of hard practice, persistence and determination have enabled him to develop a technique of his own. He cradles the ball on the inside of his elbows and flips out on the left side of the bed, somewhat in the style of a medicine ball. Ford's ball has good working qualities and he had the pins jumping on alleys 9 and 10.

His Only Sport

Because of his handicap, Ford was never able to participate in any kind of athletics as a youngster. Finally, a friend induced him to try bowling. He found the game interesting and worked hard to improve himself.

Three years later he pounds the maples at a 153 clip in the Bethlehem Steel League of Buffalo and is credited with a career high game of 243. He has not delivered a "600" set in league competition but has reached that mark several times in open competition.

Ford slumped in his singles and doubles events at the Bowlatorium but still finished with an all-events total just a few pins under 1800. That's a performance any able-bodied trundler will take, anytime.

Cools Off a Bit

Chicago, May 22 (AP)—Johnny Adams, the hottest jockey in the nation of the moment, cooled off a little yesterday but still rode two winners to number 14 in four days at Hawthorne. The Little Iola, Kas., rider entered yesterday's program with 12 winners out of 14 races in three days, a streak that included five victories in a row last Saturday, two on Monday and five straight Tuesday.

Booster Meeting

A meeting of all bowlers interested in forming the 1952-53 Booster Bowling League will be held Tuesday, May 27, at the Bowlodrome at 7:30 p. m. Sam Avnet, president, has requested a full attendance.

Yesterday's Stars

(By The Associated Press)

Batting—Chris Van Cuyk, Dodgers—His four hits in 19-1 rout of Cincinnati were one more than he had in his entire big league career.

Pitching—Virgil Trucks, Tigers—Ran hitless string to 15 2/3 innings before failing in bid for second straight no-hit game as Detroit whipped Philadelphia, 5-1.

LaMotta Impressive In Beating Hairston

Detroit, May 22 (AP)—At Jake LaMotta's age you can't fight slambang for 10 full rounds against a dancing youngster like Eugene (Silent) Hairston. So how did the 30-year-old Bronx Bull gain his unanimous decision over Hairston in a 10-round slugging match here last night?

"That's easy. I paced myself," grinned the happy veteran of 12 ring years who outweighed 22-year-old Hairston 168 to 160¼ pounds. "That's my best fight since I started the comeback."

However Jake, former middleweight champion, couldn't explode his once-lethal right when he got Hairston in trouble. One of his few good right hands jarred the deaf mute Negro in the eighth round but Hairston clinched and was all right before Jake could move in again.

Late Spurts Help

Jake, aiming for a light heavyweight title fight or a battle against the winner of the Randy Turpin-Don Cockell fight, saved most of his windmill clouting for the last 30 to 45 seconds of each round.

And the crowd of 10,232 who paid $32,393.10 to watch Jake's 21st fight in his so-called lucky city loved it. They roared when Jake started in whirlwind style to take the first three rounds of the nationally televised and broadcast battle.

In the fourth, ninth and tenth Hairston showed his best but his punches in the slugging exchanges lacked power.

Referee Clarence Rosen scored it 53-47, Judge Jack Aspery 55-45, and Judge Joe Lenahan 52-48. The AP scorecard read 55-45.

Central Recs Meet Tonight

A special meeting to make plans for the 1952 Central Rec Summer League will be held tonight at 8 o'clock at the Central Rec alleys, Railroad avenue.

Secretary Ray Houghtaling has invited all bowlers of the winter league and others interested to be on hand.

New York Hotshots Fail in ABC Test

Milwaukee, May 22 (AP)—Two more of the nation's top ranking bowling teams failed last night in their efforts to place among the top 10 in the American Bowling Congress tournament.

Cirlin Mercury, Brooklyn, N. Y., shot 2,752 while Dur-A-Craft Bowling Shirts, New York, had 2,740. Of their top stars, Frank Santore of the Dur-A-Craft, 1950 ABC all events champion, made the best showing with 618. Tony Sparando had 577 and Marty Cassio 566 for the Mercurys.

These two 985-average teams were overshadowed by Kormandy's South Brook Tavern, of South Bound Brook, N. J. This quintet hit 2,814—high for the night—on games of 904, 902 and 1,008.

Mercurys had games of 836, 946 and 970 while Dur-A-Craft hit 852, 973 and 915.

Unabashed by First Error of Season Williams Responds With Homer

New York, May 22 (AP)—Davey Williams charged in behind the pitcher's mound, scooped up Enos Slaughter's slow roller but flipped it wildly past first base enabling Red Schoendienst to score from second.

It was a routine error and it gave the St. Louis Cardinals a short-lived 1-0 lead over the New York Giants in the second portion of yesterday's day-night doubleheader. The Giants won 8-1, after dropping the opener, 3-0.

But it marked a milestone in the brief but spectacular big league career of the Giants' rookie second baseman. For this miscue was Williams' first of the 1952 season. Until Davey made that misplay, he had played through 57 consecutive errorless games, 30 in 1951 and 27 during this campaign. He had accepted 201 chances during that span. Schoendienst holds the National League second baseman's mark of 320 chances without an error.

Unperturbed, Williams stepped to the plate in the Giants' half of the first and bashed a home run into the upper left field stands to get back the run he presented to the Cards a few moments before. He followed with a single and walk and scored three runs. A great catch by Stan Musial robbed him of another extra-base wallop.

Trucks Misses Bid For 2nd No-Hitter

Detroit, May 22 (AP)—Hulking Virgil (Fire) Trucks of the Detroit Tigers knows just how nearly a hundred other frustrated American and National League pitchers felt.

Like Trucks, those pitchers tried to hurl two straight no-hit games, and like Trucks, they failed.

But in the 77-year span few came as close as the speedballing southerner did yesterday in the last-place Tigers' 5-1 victory over the Philadelphia Athletics. He blamed wildness for his failure.

Trucks missed his bid in the seventh inning with one out when Billy Hitchcock slashed his first pitch cleanly to left center field.

Only one man—Johnny Vander Meer of the Cincinnati Reds in 1938—succeeded in the double no-hit trick in successive games. Allie Reynolds of the New York Yankees hurled two no-hitters in one season (1951) but they weren't in succession.

"Control was my trouble," said the 206-pound, 33-year-old right-hander. "I couldn't find the plate as well as I did last week (his no-hitter beat Washington 1-0). And I was getting tired."

Horsemen and Guests at Annual Dinner

150 Turn Calendar Back to Days of Horse and Buggy

There wasn't a horse around but there was plenty of talk about "man's best friend," last night when the Kingston Horsemen's Association held its annual dinner at The Barn. Approximately 150 attended.

Prior to and after the meal horsemen from the city and surrounding communities indulged in "pony talk" and the younger ones thrilled as those of the horse and buggy era reminisced.

President Harry B. Walker as toastmaster welcomed the crowd and introduced those of prominence in the horse world, men who own trotters, pacers, saddle horses, ponies and draft animals.

His fraternal brothers look upon Walker as the dean of horsemen, the only surviving member of the group that instituted the association after World War 1, and who has been their president since the death of Elmer Palen several years ago.

More Kick in Horse

Although everybody arrived in a car, the consensus was that "there's more kick in a horse than a gas buggy."

Walker, former mayor of Kingston, recalled the days when trotting races were held on the ice in the Rondout creek, and on Albany avenue.

"They were the real thrillers, those days," he said, "when a man and his family witnessed the real action instead of turning on a television set in his parlor."

Captain William J. Geary of the Kingston Fire Department answered a few alarms with horse-drawn equipment, and Sgt. John F. Roosa had police and artillery horses galloping all around The Barn.

Roosa trained animals for the New York Police Department and 156th Field Artillery, before the National Guard was motorized and horses became obsolete for military units.

Many Young Hoppeys

James McCabe, local restaurateur, whose avocation is raising ponies, said he was amazed at the crop of young Hop Along Cassidys when he opened his riding ring on Route 28 across Washington avenue viaduct.

Bert Chambers, who has owned many fine horses, was popular with the gathering.

Ferd Gildersleeve and Isidore Epstein busied themselves with the financial chore on ticket returns, but managed to gallop a few steeds anyway.

Among Those Present

Others prominent at the dinner were former Congressman Jay LeFevre and Louis LeFevre of New Paltz; Postmaster William R. Kraft of Kingston, Dr. Paul Perlman of Woodstock and Dr. Albert Margolis of Kingston, Dr. Morton Lown, a prominent veterinarian in the "horse age," Col. C. S. Preston of the old horse-drawn artillery; Wally Foster of Rhinebeck, Frank Cookingham, starter at the track there; Robert Boyle, Joseph Epstein, Jack Epstein, Leon Wilber, Frank Emberson, Aaron Lipkin, William F. Edelmuth and Eugene B. Carey, former mayors of Kingston; Frank McDonough, Frand Nadal and Jack Zaccheo, nephew of the late John Cuneo, noted among the leading sportsmen when trotters were popular at tracks that graced the area.

After the dinner there was an entertainment, following which the horsemen lingered to chat with Bob Teetsel, proprietor of The Barn, whose hospitality they enjoyed.

World Mat Title To Lou Thesz

Los Angeles, May 22 (AP)—Wonderful peace settled over the national wrestling scene today and Los Angeles reaffirmed its claim as a place of astonishing events.

Twenty-five thousand two hundred and fifty six persons turned out to see a wrestling show last night and they paid $103,277.75 for the privilege. Wrestling people say the marks were the greatest ever.

And today the world heavyweight champion, according to the National Wrestling Alliance which presumably rules the sport, is the man most everyone thought would reach the goal all the time, Lou Thesz of St. Louis.

Thesz, who is 33 and weighed 223, won the title when he vanquished Baron Michele Leone of Italy. Supposedly this solidifies title made around the country.

It took 55 minutes for the entire drama to unfold, and the cheering crowd apparently loved every grunt and groan. Thesz, installed as the hero of the plot in the first three minutes, proved that virtue triumphs. He won the first and third falls from 210-pound Leone, whose age is something over 35.

Consider the tribulations of a crack bowler like John Quinzi of Rochester in a handicap tournament such as the state championships now in progress here.

Quinzi, a 210-average sharpie in the Kodak City, earned $11,000 by winning first place in the 1951 $65,000 Petersen Classic. The Petersen pays $8,000 first place in cash and a $250 war bond for the next 12 months to the first place winner. His second place in this year's tournament is worth an additional $4,000.

In Kingston, Quinzi shot an 1846 all-events net score, with 641 in the team event, 597 doubles and 608 singles. Operating from scratch, of course, he earned a few measly bucks. Yet he averaged almost 208 per set in the nine-game route. Is or isn't the state tournament geared for the average or once-a-week trundler?

• Flotsam and Jetsam:

Fred Davi engineered a tryout with Binghamton of the Eastern League for Robert Post of Kingston. Post, an 18-year-old youth with a burning desire to make the grade in organized ball, played second base with Pucker Davis' Colonial Merchants last year. His trial was delayed several days by bad weather at Binghamton which is managed by Jim Gleason, the former Chicago Cub outfielder. Gleason was a member of Davi's fabulous Waterbury Brasscos during the war period. Yogi Berra, Rupert Thompson, Billy Johnson and a flock of other big leaguers then in service at New London Naval Station and other Connecticut bases played with that outfit. Davi's team made the national press wires by defeating four major league clubs in one week in exhibition contests. Hold on, semi-pro isn't dead in Poughkeepsie yet. A Pine Plains promoter, George Stuetzle, is reported seriously considering the idea of forming a club to play arclight baseball at Riverview Field. New Paltz Central High rates a rousing salute for the excellent manner in which the first annual Hudson Valley Relays were conducted. Except for a misunderstanding in the "Invitational 100" the meet went off in smooth fashion. That difficulty can be straightened out for the 1953 feature.

• Putt and Take:

N. LeVan Haver, Floyd Flint, and Mrs. William Kelly were extremely gratified by the response to Twaalfskill's first 2-ball mixed foursome competition of the season. The entry set an all-time record for the midtown layout. Afterwards the marvelous kitchen facilities of the club got a heavy play from the membership. Here is an odd situation. Lou Schafer says that there are not enough boys in the 12-14 age bracket available to form a Saturday morning league at the Athletic Field. As a result the weekly sessions will be devoted to batting and fielding practice and coaching tips by Schafer. There has been so much talk about the need of a 13-14 year league in Kingston that it's strange to see such a negligible response to the YMCA's offer to operate such a circuit.

• ABC Makes Some Important Changes:

When a substitution is made during a game the score of such game shall be credited to the starting player. The substitution can be made anytime.

If a bowler is unable to complete a game because of disability, injury or emergency and no qualified substitute is available, the player may count the actual score rolled plus one-tenth of his blind score for each remaining frame.

When a tie game occurs each of the two teams involved shall be credited with one-half game won and one-half game lost. This rule eliminates the roll-off of a tie game. Equal division of the point value in a league using the point system is also provided.

The city association secretary or president must notify the secretary of the American Bowling Congress of all high score claims within a period of 14 days after the score has been rolled. (Changes involved here as these: Previously the responsibility rested solely with the secretary and the time limit was 30 days.)

Another One About Casey—While managing the Boston Braves in 1938, Casey Stengel was asked by a reporter to enlarge upon the kind of team he expected.

"It will be a fighting ball club," quipped Casey with the inevitable wink. "But at the same time it will be a very polite ball club. Whenever one of my pitchers hits a .395 batter in the head with the ball, he must apologize. He must walk up to the man and say:

"'My deal fellow, I am awfully sorry. Please view this regrettable incident as an accident.'

"If my men are not courteous to the men they hit, I will have no part of them. I am constitutionally opposed to low, vulgar tactics."

How about Aggie Smith bringing down the house when she was introduced at the Homecoming Day on May Day!

What are you doing this week-end? Going places? Doing things? Need some new slacks? Don't wait till Friday to choose them. We've got plenty . . . but give us a couple of days to alter them properly.

Broskie Raps 703

Harold Broskie came up with the first "700" of the summer league season last night.

The veteran trundler pounded 703 with solos of 242, 243 and 218 in the opening session of the Ferraro Summer Mixed wheel at the Bowlodrome.

Rose Schatzel led the women's contingent with 540, while John Ferraro was runnerup to Broskie with 211-226-621 and Bill Murray posted 213-204-610.

Buster Ferraro's 665, with 195, 237, 233, was the best of five "600" series recorded in the first night of the Summer Classic. Elwood Robinson knocked off 200-234-624 and Tom Carlino accounted for 214-226-609.

Other top counts included John Ferraro's 233-608, Charlie Manfro 222-203-603 and Larry Weishaupt 220-602.

To Televise Fight

Philadelphia, May 22 (AP)—Heavyweight champion Jersey Joe Walcott and challenger Ezzard Charles, returned to serious workouts at their nearby training camps today following a $175,000 settlement for a nationwide telecast of their Municipal Stadium bout June 5. Herman Taylor, who is co-promoter of the title bout with the International Baxing Club, yesterday announced signing of TV terms with the National Broadcasting Co. and the Gillette Safety Razor Co., sponsors.

Blitzen Up Wins

Yonkers, May 22 (AP)—Dick Thomas returned to the sulky after a week's illness and piloted the Recama Stable's Blitzen Up to a one length victory over Virginia Flow in 2:07.1 in the $3840 Sunnyside Trot in the Grand Circuit meeting at Yonkers Raceway last night. Starting from the difficult second tier the 6-year-old son of Follow Up was in fifth position along the rail going to the quarter pole. Virginia Flow led at that point.

Mountaineer Is Sought

Ramapo, May 22 (AP)—Rangers and police searched the dense woods and old Indian shelters of the Ramapo Mountains today for Ramsey Conklin, 78, last of the old mountaineers locally, who disappeared Monday. His sons, Theodore and Nicholas, told Police Chief Abe Stern that their father complained Sunday about hearing shots in the woods back of the Conklin cabin on Limekiln Mountain. The sons said they hadn't heard any shooting but their father started out early Monday morning to investigate. He hasn't been seen since.

Unabashed by First Error of Season Williams Responds With Homer

New York, May 22 (AP)—Davey Williams charged in behind the pitcher's mound, scooped up Enos Slaughter's slow roller but flipped it wildly past first base enabling Red Schoendienst to score from second.

It was a routine error and it gave the St. Louis Cardinals a short-lived 1-0 lead over the New York Giants in the second portion of yesterday's day-night doubleheader. The Giants won 8-1, after dropping the opener, 3-0.

But it marked a milestone in the brief but spectacular big league career of the Giants' rookie second baseman. For this miscue was Williams' first of the 1952 season. Until Davey made that misplay, he had played through 57 consecutive errorless games, 30 in 1951 and 27 during this campaign. He had accepted 201 chances during that span. Schoendienst holds the National League second baseman's mark of 320 chances without an error.

Unperturbed, Williams stepped to the plate in the Giants' half of the first and bashed a home run into the upper left field stands to get back the run he presented to the Cards a few moments before. He followed with a single and walk and scored three runs. A great catch by Stan Musial robbed him of another extra-base wallop.

Trucks Misses Bid For 2nd No-Hitter

Detroit, May 22 (AP)—Hulking Virgil (Fire) Trucks of the Detroit Tigers knows just how nearly a hundred other frustrated American and National League pitchers felt.

Like Trucks, those pitchers tried to hurl two straight no-hit games, and like Trucks, they failed.

But in the 77-year span few came as close as the speedballing southerner did yesterday in the last-place Tigers' 5-1 victory over the Philadelphia Athletics. He blamed wildness for his failure.

Trucks missed his bid in the seventh inning with one out when Billy Hitchcock slashed his first pitch cleanly to left center field.

Only one man—Johnny Vander Meer of the Cincinnati Reds in 1938—succeeded in the double no-hit trick in successive games. Allie Reynolds of the New York Yankees hurled two no-hitters in one season (1951) but they weren't in succession.

"Control was my trouble," said the 206-pound, 33-year-old right-hander. "I couldn't find the plate as well as I did last week (his no-hitter beat Washington 1-0). And I was getting tired."

Mountaineer Is Sought

Ramapo, May 22 (AP)—Rangers and police searched the dense woods and old Indian shelters of the Ramapo Mountains today for Ramsey Conklin, 78, last of the old mountaineers locally, who disappeared Monday. His sons, Theodore and Nicholas, told Police Chief Abe Stern that their father complained Sunday about hearing shots in the woods back of the Conklin cabin on Limekiln Mountain. The sons said they hadn't heard any shooting but their fatheir started out early Monday morning to investigate. He hasn't been seen since.

Specialist Gives

the etiology of heart disease and developed an anatomic description of what had happened to the heart.

Donovan said that much was known about heart disease and that much could be done to relieve it, such as the use of drugs like digitalis. He placed special emphasis on the invention of the Ballisto Cardiograph with which a physician is able to prognosticate the likelihood of the appearance of heart disease in a subject at some future time.

He said that since 1940 the incidence of acute rheumatic fever had declined noticeably and pointed out that anti-biotic drugs had doubtless had much to do with it. These drugs, he said, suppress the "strep germ."

Expresses Appreciation

President Harry Ensign, who presided, expressed his appreciation to all organizations and individuals whose cooperation had made possible the health and welfare work done last year.

"With all this help," he said, "we have gone forward in the program of health education, tuberculosis prevention, school health, mental health and heart work.

"To the many contributors who have purchased Christmas Seals and contributed to the heart fund which support the activities of the association, we say thanks."

Annual Reports Given

Annual reports were presented and a slate of 13 directors to serve three-year terms, 1952-55, were elected: Dr. Henry L. Bibby, Kingston; Mrs. George H. Laws, Woodstock; H. Van Wyck Darrow, Kingston; Rev. Charles H. Brieant, Stone Ridge; Mrs. Dorothy Hocmer, Ellenville; Arthur J. Laidlaw, Kingston; Mrs. Charles W. Brandt, Hurley; Augustus P. Modjeska, Saugerties; Dr. John R. Roberts, Kingston; Lester J. Roosa, Stone Ridge; Philip T. Schantz, Highland, and Dr. Edward F. Shea, Kingston.

The following officers were elected for 1952-53: Harry S. Ensign, president; Dr. Frederick Holcomb, Sr., and Edmund P. Rochford, vice-presidents; Alfred A. Ronder, treasurer, and Katherine M. Murphy, RN, secretary.

Members of the nominating committee were Vernon A. Barnhart, Mrs. Joseph Deegan, Edmund P. Rochford and Herbert E. Thomas.

It was reported that in 1951 a total of 3,525 people viewed 12 different mental health films and that two sessions of the Professional Workers Institute were held in the fall. Plans were also made in the fall to co-sponsor an intensive mental health institute for school administrators with the state departments of education and mental health, to be followed by a workshop for Ulster County teachers.

At the beginning of the school year the mental health committee voted an appropriation of $300 to supplement the family life course at Kingston High School, it was reported.

It was also reported that a community heart service had been set up during the past year and that referrals were made by the family physician to the committee for the medically indigent. Patients needing electric cardiograms, X-rays and other tests are screened by the board of physicians.

Contributions, Legacy

Total contributions to date for 1952 amount to $5,519, it was reported, and recently the association received a legacy of $5,000 from the estate of Mrs. Elsie Lord Peabody. A number of contributions made in memoriam to friends or relatives have been received by the committee during the year, 30 per cent of which is forwarded to the State and American Heart Associations. Most of this allotment is used for research.

Through efforts of the patients service committee, it was reported, volunteers had been secured to serve as hosts three times a week at out-patient clinics and that all patients were remembered with a cake on their birthdays and that an entertainment or party had been given nearly every month for patients. An annual grant of $500 was made from Christmas Seals funds by the board of directors and placed at the disposal of the committee for its program.

The 1951 Seal Sale amounted to $24,910, it was reported, an increase of approximately $1,000 over the preceding year. It was stated in the report that Ulster county was, each year, one of the best per capita counties in the state.

Tug Is Sunk

Chester, Pa., May 22 (AP)—A pre-dawn crash of a 10,000-ton tanker and a tug towing two oil barges today sent the tug to the bottom of the Delaware river off the Sun Shipbuilding Yards here. The coast guard reported three crewmen missing from the tug, The Patoc. The tanker, The Atlantic Dealer, apparently was not damaged seriously. It proceeded to the Atlantia Refiining Co. dock at Philadelphia, five miles north of the collision scene.

Would Send Her More

Biggleswade, Eng., May 22 (AP) — C. J. Jeeves, who's been paying his wife 2 pounds 15 shillings ($7.70) a week since they separated asked the court's permission yesterday to send along a little more. The astounded judge, who said he never had heard of such a thing, granted Jeeves' request to increase the maintenance money to 3 pounds ($8.40). It's the increased cost of living, Jeeves explained.

Specialist Gives

the etiology of heart disease and developed an anatomic description of what had happened to the heart.

Donovan said that much was known about heart disease and that much could be done to relieve it, such as the use of drugs like digitalis. He placed special emphasis on the invention of the Ballisto Cardiograph with which a physician is able to prognosticate the likelihood of the appearance of heart disease in a subject at some future time.

He said that since 1940 the incidence of acute rheumatic fever had declined noticeably and pointed out that anti-biotic drugs had doubtless had much to do with it. These drugs, he said, suppress the "strep germ."

Expresses Appreciation

President Harry Ensign, who presided, expressed his appreciation to all organizations and individuals whose cooperation had made possible the health and welfare work done last year.

"With all this help," he said, "we have gone forward in the program of health education, tuberculosis prevention, school health, mental health and heart work.

"To the many contributors who have purchased Christmas Seals and contributed to the heart fund which support the activities of the association, we say thanks."

Annual Reports Given

Annual reports were presented and a slate of 13 directors to serve three-year terms, 1952-55, were elected: Dr. Henry L. Bibby, Kingston; Mrs. George H. Laws, Woodstock; H. Van Wyck Darrow, Kingston; Rev. Charles H. Brieant, Stone Ridge; Mrs. Dorothy Hocmer, Ellenville; Arthur J. Laidlaw, Kingston; Mrs. Charles W. Brandt, Hurley; Augustus P. Modjeska, Saugerties; Dr. John R. Roberts, Kingston; Lester J. Roosa, Stone Ridge; Philip T. Schantz, Highland, and Dr. Edward F. Shea, Kingston.

The following officers were elected for 1952-53: Harry S. Ensign, president; Dr. Frederick Holcomb, Sr., and Edmund P. Rochford, vice-presidents; Alfred A. Ronder, treasurer, and Katherine M. Murphy, RN, secretary.

Members of the nominating committee were Vernon A. Barnhart, Mrs. Joseph Deegan, Edmund P. Rochford and Herbert E. Thomas.

It was reported that in 1951 a total of 3,525 people viewed 12 different mental health films and that two sessions of the Professional Workers Institute were held in the fall. Plans were also made in the fall to co-sponsor an intensive mental health institute for school administrators with the state departments of education and mental health, to be followed by a workshop for Ulster County teachers.

At the beginning of the school year the mental health committee voted an appropriation of $300 to supplement the family life course at Kingston High School, it was reported.

It was also reported that a community heart service had been set up during the past year and that referrals were made by the family physician to the committee for the medically indigent. Patients needing electric cardiograms, X-rays and other tests are screened by the board of physicians.

Contributions, Legacy

Total contributions to date for 1952 amount to $5,519, it was reported, and recently the association received a legacy of $5,000 from the estate of Mrs. Elsie Lord Peabody. A number of contributions made in memoriam to friends or relatives have been received by the committee during the year, 30 per cent of which is forwarded to the State and American Heart Associations. Most of this allotment is used for research.

Through efforts of the patients service committee, it was reported, volunteers had been secured to serve as hosts three times a week at out-patient clinics and that all patients were remembered with a cake on their birthdays and that an entertainment or party had been given nearly every month for patients. An annual grant of $500 was made from Christmas Seals funds by the board of directors and placed at the disposal of the committee for its program.

The 1951 Seal Sale amounted to $24,910, it was reported, an increase of approximately $1,000 over the preceding year. It was stated in the report that Ulster county was, each year, one of the best per capita counties in the state.

Tug Is Sunk

Chester, Pa., May 22 (AP)—A pre-dawn crash of a 10,000-ton tanker and a tug towing two oil barges today sent the tug to the bottom of the Delaware river off the Sun Shipbuilding Yards here. The coast guard reported three crewmen missing from the tug, The Patoc. The tanker, The Atlantic Dealer, apparently was not damaged seriously. It proceeded to the Atlantia Refiining Co. dock at Philadelphia, five miles north of the collision scene.

Would Send Her More

Biggleswade, Eng., May 22 (AP) — C. J. Jeeves, who's been paying his wife 2 pounds 15 shillings ($7.70) a week since they separated asked the court's permission yesterday to send along a little more. The astounded judge, who said he never had heard of such a thing, granted Jeeves' request to increase the maintenance money to 3 pounds ($8.40). It's the increased cost of living, Jeeves explained.
